MUSSOLINI ADDS 80,000 BOYS TO FASCIST ARMY

Youths of 18 Given Oath; Get Rifles.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, March 25.—Eighty thousand Italian youths of eighteen—the Avant Guardisti, as they are called in terms of the Mussolini régime—flowered into full grown members of the Fascist party under a dashing spring rain which deluged Rome today.

All Italy celebrated the ninth anniversary of the Fascist party's organization, to which was joined demonstrations incidental to the second annual induction into the party ranks of those youths who, after several years of training in Fascist training schools, have reached the age at which they attain the Mussolinian equivalent of the Roman toga.

The celebrations in Rome were under the eyes of Premier Mussolini. They were duplicated in Milan, Venice, Turin, and Naples, and every other large city. They were essentially military in character and illustrated vividly the double aspect of Fascism—a political party with a military organization. And the parade of 25,000 men down the Corso curiously recalled the glories of republican Rome, when the city was struggling with the Latin league and every citizen was a soldier.

Youth Given Rifles.

The Roman celebrations were typical of what took place in other towns. Early this morning 4,000 or 5,000 eighteen year old Avant Guardisti went to the Mussolini barracks, where they were given rifles, and party badges. Then they went to Piazza del Popolo, in the historic Roman square, where were assembled literally thousands of youngsters from six to fourteen, called the Balilla, who are being developed for Fascists membership, and old Fascists no longer in active service.

The huge assembly was drawn up in squares with the Avant Guardisti placed just before the reviewing stand. Toward eleven o'clock Premier Mussolini appeared. The oath of the Fascist party was read to the new members by Capt. Guglielmotti, federal secretary of the province and city of Rome. The ceremonies were marked by soberness and a lack of that enthusiasm and oratory which characterized such demonstrations in the early days of Fascism.

Il Duce Gets Out of Rain.

After the oath was administered, a long parade began to march past Il Duce and down the Corso to Piazza Venezia. The dictator stood in the rain for a few moments to watch the beginning of the parade from Piazza del Popolo, then repaired to Palazzo Chigi, in the foreign office, which is along the line of march. Contrary to former practice, however, Il Duce did not appear either on the balcony or in the reviewing stand erected in Palazzo Colonna, where, however, he was represented by Minister of Colonies Federzoni and high generals and admirals.

As the parade continued to file past for a full forty-five minutes, Il Duce from time to time was seen in the background of his office contemplating the marching panorama of his nine years of political accomplishment, represented in the youthful and trim Fascists.

Small Boys Head Parade.

First in the parade came black-shirted urchins of six to twelve years, on bicycles, and having a hilarious time. As they passed two brass bands under the premier's window struck up the first anthem of youth, "Giovan[illegible]"

Following the youngsters on wheels came several thousand more boys of the Balilla—kids from eight to fourteen. As they passed the reviewing stand beside Chigi palace their leaders gave the Roman salute, and some shouted, "Il Duce!"

As the rain continued to spurt down there followed a second wave of Fascist youth called the Avant Guardisti, from fourteen up, who will be made Fascists when they reach eighteen. Then came the eighteen year olds who today were inducted into the Fascist party, and after them several thousand special Alpine frontier guards, carrying skis, who were brought to Rome as a special demonstration. The old timers of the Fascist party, some wearing black shirts and Sam Brown belts over them, some wearing overcoats, some carrying umbrellas, all dressed nondescriptly, formed the rear guard.

The celebration was fundamentally a moral demonstration and a complete proof of how Premier Mussolini has taken hold of and organized the youth of Italy, with which he means to remake old Italy as soon as possible.

WAGE STRUGGLE MINE WORKERS' VALLEY FORGE

Union in Life and Death Battle.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—What can congress do to put the coal industry on a sound basis and protect the capital invested there, the workers and the public?

This question appears little nearer solution today than when the senate interstate commerce committee began its hearings three weeks ago. Pressure for some sort of legislation that will permit the operators to unite in control of production and prices is growing, but the stumbling block is the fate of the hundreds of thousands of union miners. They want to be recognized but economic forces have driven the operators in many states into the open shop.

Call it Union Valley Forge.

The United Mine Workers of America, once the most powerful labor union in the country is passing through what its leaders call their Valley Forge. With an almost religious fervor they cling to their cause, that of upholding their high wage scale and their American standard of living. They refuse to accept the low living standard of the southern Negroes who are competing with them. They regard their stand as a sort of tariff wall.

Mining is their life and they cannot be driven from the fields. They cling there, in hill side shacks, by the side of their old mines, while the nonunion miners march in to take their jobs. There are too many miners now and the operators are taking in more men and making more miners every day.

Situation Can't Settle Itself.

The main fact so far drawn from the hearings seems to be that the situation cannot settle itself without governmental interference. This will go far toward helping the ousted union men, if the majority report of the committee is adopted. This report will aim toward bringing union labor back into its own.

That anything definite will come from this congress, however, is doubtful. The operators have hardly begun to present their case. Coal legislation is likely to be lost in the final legislative jam.

A coal division under the department of commerce, with provision for conciliation and mediation similar to that given railroad labor, is likely to be the main proposal.

Open Shop Spreads.

The committee will continue its hearings for at least two weeks more while operators in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois are preparing to follow the lead of Pennsylvania and West Virginia and begin the open shop.

Among the new witnesses subpoenaed are W. H. Coolidge, chairman of the Island Creek Coal company in southern West Virginia. This is one of the largest companies in the country and has been on a nonunion basis. Conditions in this part of the coal fields are described by union witnesses as terrible.

THEATER OWNER KIDNAPED, MADE TO YIELD $2,000

As John Mortman, owner of the Lexington theater, 1162 East 63d street, neared his home at 6649 Drexel boulevard last night after closing the theater he was hailed by three men in an automobile parked at the curb. "We have come to take you for a little ride, Mr. Mortman," called one.

They drove back to the theater, but, seeing a policeman standing nearby, went on. After a swing around the neighborhood they returned and parked the car in University avenue near 63d street. With one man on each side and the third following closely behind, pressing a hard object into the small of his back, they walked Mortman to the theater. There they forced him to open the safe and hand over $2,000, two days' receipts, from it.

Two men departed, while one, "a large, well mannered fellow," according to Mortman, guarded him and talked about the weather. When a horn sounded outside the robber warned Mortman not to call the police for five minutes and ran to join his confederates.

G. O. P. VOTERS URGED TO FILL OUT TRIBUNE'S POST CARD BALLOTS

Since last Friday, 20,000 TRIBUNE straw ballots have been in the hands of Republican primary voters. About 2,000 only have been marked and returned, and not all of them counted. Those tabulated sho wsuch surprising results that further corroboration is advisable. Therefore voters who have received the post card ballots are urged to mark and mail them at once.

Preparatory to tabulation of the first 1,000 regular straws received, the 117 miscellaneous ballots were segregated. This odd lot shows that 79 persons, who voted in the Republican mayoralty primary in 1927, will vote the Democratic ballot April 10. Of these 54 are for Gov. Al Smith for President, 12 are for Senator Reed and 3 for Senator Walsh.

The other 38 express a preference for the following as Republican presidential candidates; Mayor Thompson, Senator Borah, Charles E. Hughes, Speaker Longworth, Ex-Gov. Pinchot, Secretary of Treasury Mellon and Senators Deneen, Norris, La Follette, Nye and Watson. Of these "outside contenders," Mayor Thompson leads the list with 18 straws, Senator Borah and Mr. Hughes are tied for second place with four votes each and Speaker Longworth is third with three votes.

THE TRIBUNE will begin publication of its straw votes soon.

STONE PLANS TO HEAD SEMINARY AND KEEP PULPIT

The Rev. Dr. John Timothy Stone, pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, yesterday informed his congregation that an arrangement had been reached whereby he could accept the presidency of the McCormick Theological seminary and also retain his pulpit.

He added that the board of the Fourth church will consider the matter on April 4 and that he believes the directors will approve the arrangement.

The call extended by the seminary on Dr. Stone is the second in recent months. The first came last November when the directors of the seminary voted unanimously to elect Dr. Stone president, to succeed Dr. James G. K. McClure, retired. Dr. Stone at that time decided to remain at his church post, but when another call came a few days ago in the nature of a compromise for his services Dr. Stone said he believed he would accept.

It was arranged that a co-pastor be engaged to assume many of Dr. Stone's church duties, so as to provide Dr. Stone with time for the presidency of the seminary. Dr. Stone would retain his pulpit and officiate at the Sunday morning services.

Cicero Safest Town in State, Records Show

Cicero, often pictured as the place where gunmen hold sway, stood out yesterday as the safest town in Illinois, according to mortality statistics issued by the state department of health.

For the year 1927 Cicero's death rate was only 4.93 per 1,000 population, by far the lowest in the state. The stork, however, was lazy, the birth rate being but 6.91. Forest Park, with a death rate of 6.95, was second in the state, while, further upsetting tradition, Herrin of "bloody" Williamson county, came third with 9.06. In contrast, the undertakers' trade was best in the comparatively quiet country towns of Jacksonville, with a death rate of 35.77, Elgin, 21.72, and Lincoln, 17.27.

Higher Than Rest Here.

Chicago's death rate—11.52 per 1,000 population—was slightly higher than for downstate, which had a rate of 11.18. The average for the entire state was 11.32.

The stork, however, more than made up for the death toll in Chicago, bringing an average of 19.62 babies per 1,000 population as compared to only 17.28 in the rest of the state. He did even better in the suburban towns surrounding Chicago, especially Oak Park and Evanston, which apparently are raising more children than any other towns in the state. Oak Park's birth rate was 45.21 and Evanston's 39.89. Streator came third from the standpoint of children born with 28.54, while Maywood and Forest Park were at the other end of the list with only 10.46 and 5.46 respectively.

Summary of Report.

A summary of the birth and mortality figures for the municipalities of Cook county follows:

	No. births.	Rate.	No. deaths.	Rate.
Berwyn	405	19.75	210	10.24
Blue Island....	376	27.24	196	14.20
Chicago	60,888	19.62	35,758	11.52
Chicago Heights	440	19.04	215	9.30
Cicero	474	6.91	338	4.93
Evanston	1,851	39.89	652	14.05
Forest Park....	77	5.46	98	6.95
Maywood	157	10.46	156	10.40
Oak Park.......	2,514	45.21	779	14.01
Totals	69,973	19.68	42,016	11.82

The number of children born in Chicago during 1927 increased 9,773 over 1926, the report revealed, while in the state, exclusive of Chicago, it dropped 2,615. The total number of children born in the state, therefore, increased, 7,168.

Stork Gains 140 a Day.

Summarizing, the report points out, the grand state total of new babies for 1927 was 133,662, and the total deaths, 82,849. The stork thus beat the undertaker by a count of 50,813, gaining exactly 140 a day.

Analyzing the county figures, the report shows Franklin, Macoupin, and Putnam counties to be the healthiest as shown by the death rate and Morgan, Richland, and Lee the least healthy in the order named. Du Page led in the birth rate, with Madison and Richland close behind. Kendall, Putnam, and Stark counties were lowest.

FREEZING SNAP FORECAST FOR CITY TONIGHT

Summer's premature visit to Chicago is expected to end today. The official weather forecast is for showers and a sharp drop in temperature, with a reading at freezing by night.

Yesterday the highest reached by the mercury was 70 degrees. On Saturday 74 was the high and on Friday 76. The mean for the three days was nearly twenty degrees above the seasonal normal.

Rains have been general over most of the country since Saturday evening. In some parts of the northwest snow has fallen. Temperatures have been unusually high in the south, readings above 90 having been reported from Texas.

Coiffure Averts Injury to Mrs. Aimee McPherson

Des Moines, Ia., March 25.—[Special.]—Bobbed hair has no place in the future plans of Aimee Semple McPherson. The once bobbed evangelist was on her way to Creston. While asleep she was thrown against a rigid crossbar with sufficient force to make her unconscious when the car careened into the ditch. She was saved from serious injury by her high coiffure.

Perils Autos by Crashing at Roadside

Sidney Sheridan, 25 year old metallurgist for the Illinois Central railway and a graduate of the University of Chicago and Yale, was probably fatally injured yesterday in the fall of a dual controlled Curtis biplane at the Heath Flying field, near Touhy avenue and the River road west of Park Ridge. Passing motorists narrowly escaped being struck as the plane crashed two feet from the pavement.

According to the pilot, Leonard Quintall, 2546 Southport avenue, who escaped without serious injury, the plane went into a nosedive when Sheridan lost his head and "froze" the controls in his compartment. He said that he had taken Sheridan aloft for a short ride and that the machine was 200 feet in the air when his friend seized the controls.

Skull Is Fractured.

At St. Francis hospital, Evanston, it was learned that Sheridan had suffered a broken leg, a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. He was still unconscious several hours after the accident. His wife, a bookkeeper for an apartment hotel at 240 East Delaware place, was notified at their home, 5737 Kenwood avenue. She hurried to her husband's bedside.

Quintall told Sergt. Laverne Rowder of the county highway police that he owned the plane in partnership with Dr. Roy Bernard Slack, a dentist at 3439 Southport avenue. He admitted not having a license, but said he was not teaching Sheridan to fly and regarded the flight as perfectly proper. Quintall is an electrician for the Illinois Central railroad and flies in his spare time.

Plane Refused License.

"I communicated with G. G. Budwig, the government plane inspector for the Chicago district," Sergt. Rowder said, "and I learned that two months ago he refused to license this plane. He regarded it as old and unsafe.

"In addition he said that Quintall had been denied a pilot's license because of the limitation of his flying experience. I have ordered Quintall held for questioning and will ask Reed Landis, the county plane inspector, to conduct an investigation. Since several fatalities a year ago the authorities have determined to stamp out wild cat flying of which the present case is an example."

Motorists Flee to Safety.

Police said that several lives might have been lost had the plane fallen a few feet closer to the center of the roadway, which was crowded with automobiles. Drivers of several cars witnessed the strange antics of the plane as it began to drop and rushed out of danger.

When questioned by county police about his flying experience, Quintall said that he had done considerable flying in France during the war. Aside from this, he said, he had more than 60 hours' flying time since the war.

"I had no reason to get a license," he said. "I only used the plane for pleasure. Sheridan and I worked in the same shop and he asked me to take him up as he wanted to take some pictures.

Tells Story of Crash.

"When I started to land I was flying with the wind and started to circle the field to come down against the wind. As I was in the turn Sheridan must have become frightened, as he grabbed the other control bar.

"The plane started to side slip, and I couldn't get it under control, so I shut off the moter to prevent a fire when we crashed."

SHERIDAN-DEVON DISTRICT BILLS SHOW INCREASE

Levy on Loop Realty Boosted 12%.

Further heavy increases in real estate taxes in Chicago this year were revealed yesterday by a scrutiny of the new tax lists in readiness at the office of County Clerk Sweitzer. Levies on property owners in the loop district and in the Sheridan road-Broadway-Devon avenue neighborhood will be higher almost without exception, the books showed.

An average increase of more than 50 per cent in the 1928 tax bills over those of 1927 is indicated by the levies investigated in the book covering the Broadway-Devon area. The totals in the downtown area showed an average increase of nearly 12 per cent.

At present four of the new tax books have been checked under the supervision of James W. Young, Mr. Sweitzer's chief deputy clerk, who on Saturday attempted to deliver them to the office of County Treasurer Harding, Thompson Republican, so that tax bills might be mailed out without delay. No one could be found in Mr. Harding's office to receive the books, Young said. It is expected that they will be turned over to the treasurer today.

Sweitzer Speeds Up Work.

County Clerk Sweitzer hastened preparations of the tax books and bills in answer to charges by Edward R. Litzinger, chairman of the board of review and Deneen candidate for reëlection, that an attempt was being made to delay the mailing of tax bills until after the April 10 primary. Litsinger accused the Thompson organization of holding up the bills on the theory that tax payers would not relish the heavy increases.

Sweitzer denied that his office was responsible for any delay and ordered work speed up on the books.

"Book No. 1 South," which includes a part of the loop, shows total property valuations of $399,114,053, as against $367,362,304 for the same properties last year.

Increase of $2,371,486.

Taxes assessed on this valuation, which is based upon the quadrennial revaluation of the county's realty, total $19,589,129, against $17,217,642 paid in 1927, an increase of $2,371,487. The city's share of the revenue from this territory this year will be $6,582,804, as compared with $5,708,697 for last year.

Other books completed are No. 1 West, which includes a section near Armitage avenue and Robey street; No. 1 North, covering a small portion of the Forty-third ward, and No. 1 Lake View, which includes the district around Broadway and Sheridan road. A glance through the books is sufficient to show that substantial tax increases will be felt this year all over the city, with scattering decreases here and there in cases where valuations were lowered by the assessors or reviewers.

Printed copies of a newspaper editorial boosting Mayor Thompson's "America First" idea were received by Chicago voters yesterday enclosed along with their water bills mailed out by the city water department. Thus the handbill, in effect a political advertisement, reached thousands of voters through the medium of postage paid by the city.

PROFESSOR RAPS LEAGUE; CALLS IT WEAK IN A PINCH

The league of nations, effective enough in minor matters, is increasingly demonstrating its ineffectiveness in major issues, Prof. Bruno Rosselli of Vassar college asserted yesterday in an address before the Chicago Forum at the Adelphi theater. He especially scored the "regional treaties" permitted by the league.

Of more consequence ultimately to the world than the late war, Prof. Rosselli said, is the immigration problem, and the fact that there are no longer any available "no man's lands" to care for overflow population. Italy, Germany, and Japan, he declared, are confronting a population problem for which there seems no solution, due to immigration barriers and the absorption of all known territory.

"We are drifting," Prof. Roselli said, "toward a monstrous world war, which hardly anybody wants, but which nobody has the courage to arrest. The despair of the disinherited lands will fire the first shot. Their antagonists may ultimately triumph, but at a price far greater than foresighted generosity would have cost."

MORE EMMERSON BACKERS STONED; WINDOWS BROKEN

'America First' Hoodlums Blamed for Terrorism.

Window smashing terrorism, directed at supporters of the Lowden-Deneen-Emmerson ticket, turned yesterday to the 45th word, where Arthur E. Fischer is engaged in a bitter contest with George Seebacher, the Small-Thompson-Crowe entry for ward committeeman.

Two huskies armed with cobblestones smashed windows of a meat market, a lunch room, and an apartment building, all of which bore Fischer and Emmerson campaign posters.

"This is the work of America First hoodlums," Mr. Fischer charged. "If, any one holds a grudge against me he should have settled with me personally and not wrecked property of my supporters."

Store Windows Smashed.

First, the alleged America First agents heaved their missiles into the plate glass front of a meat market and grocery store at 2100 Southport avenue. This is operated by Mrs. Francis Dindorf, a widow, who was in an upstairs apartment at the time with her eighty year old mother.

"Why should they do this to me?" she asked investigators. "I don't know anything about politics. I put up those signs because my taxes went up from $73 to $107, and I thought it wouldn't cost so much if somebody else was elected."

The next victim was Stanley Grunzdiel. The practical politicians demolished the windows of his lunch room at 2068 Southport avenue, just a few doors from Mrs. Dindorf's meat market.

Apartment Is Target.

Around the corner at 1417 Custer street four windows of the apartment of Mrs. M. Elukevich were decorated with Fischer and Emmerson stickers. Each of these was a target for a stone. After this episode Sunday politics in the 45th ward subsided for the day.

On Saturday a brick was thrown through the window of the headquarters of William H. Wesbey, the Emmerson candidate for Republican committeeman of the 47th ward. That evening a poster bearing the inscription, "America First Hoodlums Wrecked This Window," appeared on the Wesbey headquarters at 1826 Irving Park boulevard.

CHARGE STATE'S MONEY IS USED TO RE-ELECT SMALL

Officials Aid Campaign in Letters to Voters.

BY PARKE BROWN.

In 1924 there were charges that state funds were being used for the printing and postage of Gov. Len Small's mail campaign. During the last few days THE TRIBUNE has received a number of letters making the same charges and supporting them by samples of the Small literature received by the writers.

These exhibits consist of envelopes that contained the campaign material. They bear the return addresses of state departments and divisions. The letterheads used were those of the statehouse branches. And in most instances the pamphlets inclosed were headed "Governor Len Small—The Master Builder"—reminiscent of "Big Bill the Builder."

In addition to this general class of letters sent out on the governor's behalf several of a more specialized type have been received. Among them are letters from the state purchasing agent to concerns from whom he has been buying supplies and others, indicating an effort by a branch of the state administration to build up an organization for Small among the recipients of state aid or charity.

How Crowds Are Gathered.

One of the form letters apparently sent out in the greatest numbers illustrates the Small method of drawing crowds for his campaign meetings, which, at least in most instances, have been well attended. Those who have written to THE TRIBUNE assert that the crowds came because the meetings were announced as official road hearings to settle routes or other questions in connection with highways passing through the territory surrounding the meeting places.

Such letters are written on stationery of the division of highways and signed by Director C. R. Miller of the department of public works and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer. At the top of the sheet in each instance is some such heading as: "Bond issue route 65, Oswego to Naperville."

"The department of public works and buildings," says such a letter, "will hold a public hearing at Pfeiffer hall, North Central college, Naperville, Ill., at 1:30 o'clock p. m., Friday, March 23, 1928, in connection with the location of the above named route."

Small Announced as Speaker.

Then after two more paragraphs comes this:

"GOV. LEN SMALL WILL ADDRESS THE MEETING and will discuss the state road situation and some of the issues which will confront the people of Illinois at the forthcoming primary election. UNITED STATES SENATOR FRANK L. SMITH, SENATOR JOHN DAILEY, candidate for attorney general, and JUDGE ROBERT E. GENTZEL, candidate for secretary of state, also will speak."

The "Master Builder" folder seemingly is inclosed in all such communications, as it is with a slightly different type of letter on the letterhead of William F. Mulvihill, supervisor of the division of waterways, which calls attention to the pamphlet and urges the recipent to aid in the renomination of the governor.

Such letters from Lawrence H. Becherer, state purchasing agent, as have come to THE TRIBUNE, are not on his office letterheads, but upon personal stationery.

They close with this paragraph:

"I will sincerely appreciate it if you can consistently urge upon your associates and employés the importance of voting for Gov. Len Small in the Republican primary, Tuesday, April 10."

So far as is known an effort to organize "The Illinois Society for Handicaps" is a new Small venture this year. It is carried on by use of letterheads of the "State of Illinois Board for Vocational Education Division of Rehabilitation," and the office of that division, 139 North Clark street, Chicago, is given as the address of the society.

The letters of this type received by THE TRIBUNE are signed with the name of H. D. Battles, whom the letterhead lists as supervisor.

"In the near future," reads the Battles' communication, "you will receive a letter from the Illinois Society for Handicaps, Room 1017, 139 North Clark street, Chicago, a society being organized in Illinois for the disabled. I believe it would be beneficial to you to become a member of this society and I would be pleased to have you coöperate with it in every way possible."

Then Comes Followup Letter.

The letter from the "society" that followed set up that a meeting had been held by "disabled persons who, like you, have received benefits from the state rehabilitation department."

"Recognition and many benefits can be secured through an organization of this kind," is one of the sentences in the letter.

Inclosed was an application for membership, a printed form for the recipient to circulate for signatures of persons "approving" of Small's candidacy for governor, and a stamped return envelope, indicating that three stamps were used in the effort for one "membership," a costly proceeding as mail campaigns go.

There were extremely bitter comments from some of the recipients of the letters who sent them along to THE TRIBUNE.

Stone Mountain, Ga., March 25.—(AP)—A 17 year old youth, L. G. GOVERNOR MAKES PREY OF CHICAGO, SAYS LITSINGER

Accuses Him of Turning Country Against City.

Edward R. Litsinger, who is seeking re-election as member of the board of review on the Lowden-Glenn-Emmerson ticket, last night ripped into Len Small. He charged the governor with the "sacking of Chicago."

To his indictment of Small on the grounds that the governor "sold Chicago at every turn of the road," Mr. Litsinger added the accusation that a program has been conducted to "poison the minds of the downstaters against Cook county."

In support of this latter charge Mr. Litsinger mentioned the attacks made by Small's downstate lieutenants against Chicago for its sewage disposal methods.

"Len Small's agents," Mr. Litsinger declared, "have painted a vicious picture of Chicago as an ogre that wilfully spews pollution into their homes. Without explaining the supreme effort that Cook county is making to solve its own problems, these anti-Chicago propagandists are taking messages of mischief to their constitutents to set them against Chicago.

"But Len Small is going to get a punch right between the eyes from the people of Chicago this time. They have been held up in cold blood long enough and they are going to end his malodorous trail of political pollution.

Home Rule Promises Cited.

"Bill Thompson says that Len Small is a friend of Chicago and if he is elected he might give Chicago something. Well, Len Small has promised home rule to Chicago twice before. Chicago believed him, and was sacked and despoiled for its trust.

"If Len Small had any sense of decency about him he would pass legislation favorable to Chicago and ask for rewards afterwards. But that's not the Small-Thompson-America First system. Len Small's scheme is to promise what he calls favors for Chicago and then knife the hand that feeds him.

"Chicago is tired now of Len Small's paternalism. The favors that he promises are only forms of justice. Chicago should not have to beg for home rule from a treacherous governor. It should demand justice of a decent governor."

EARNS $250,000, GETS READY TO ATTEND COLLEGE

Bridgeport, Conn., March 25.—[Special.]—Having proceeded to demonstrate to the extent of about $250,000 that he could succeed in the financial world without a college education, Raymond J. Kroger, 27, and with the money in bank, intends to "retire" to prepare to enter Harvard university in the fall.

Kroger says he feels the need of being able "to meet my fellow men on the same level." Eight years ago he came to Bridgeport from Great Barrington, Mass., where he finished grammar school and went several years to high school. He got a job as clerk with an investment banking firm. Today he is office manager and assistant treasurer of the firm, with plenty of money but no college degree.

250,000 AUTOS PACK STREETS AS SEASON OPENS

Some Improvement Noted Over Last Fall.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

A quarter of a million motorists, it is estimated, took advantage of the first fair Sunday of the spring of 1928 yesterday, and opened the automobile season on the drives of the city parks and the network of rural pavement throughout the county.

The initial week-end touring proved more successful and somewhat less exasperating than during the closing Sundays of last fall, largely because of the experimental nature of yesterday's outpouring.

Congestion proved a frequent factor in slowing down traffic both in the city and out in the county, and it was evident that the thousands upon thousands of over Sunday excursionists who in season habitually week-end in Wisconsin, Indiana and downstate localities, have not yet ventured far from the city.

Some Improvement Noted.

As a result the highways were spared the burden of endless lines of inbound traffic. By sundown the incoming traffic was heaviest from all directions, but few serious traffic jams were reported.

On the River road, the Rand road, Waukegan highway, Sheridan road, Lake street, Ogden avenue, Roosevelt road, Mannheim road and the south thoroughfares that include Western avenue, Cicero avenue, Halsted street and Indianapolis avenue, the density of traffic was heavy; but on none of the arteries observed were there more than three or four minute waits.

Partial widening of Roosevelt road, the widening of Ogden avenue, the elimination of the narrow curve at Glenview on the Waukegan road, offered evidence of benefits to the speed of traffic.

Crowded in City.

Within the city, points such as Montrose and Clarendon avenues, Ogden avenue and Sheridan road, Lawrence avenue and Sheridan, Ewing avenue from 101st to 95th street, Western avenue and 31st street, were scenes of almost constant congestion, with lines of waiting traffic backed up for several blocks.

At Rand and River road, Dempster street and Waukegan road, St. Charles and Mannheim roads, and other grade highway crossings out in the county, the late afternoon travel caused frequent waits and the piling up of home bound motorists in lines from a quarter to half a mile in length.

50,000 More Cars.

According to official estimates there are nearly 50,000 more automobiles registered in Chicago this spring than a year ago.

On the other hand more than 100 miles of new concrete highway were completed last year. This year 175 miles of new road are to be placed under contract in the county. The county highway department states that when its work is under way from sixty to ninety miles of road that was in use last year will be shut off from traffic. This will leave the road mileage about the same as last season, with traffic increased by about 50,000 vehicles.

Judge Sabath, 58, Feted by Friends at Banquet

Judge Joseph Sabath, chief justice of the Superior court, was presented with a $5,000 limousine at a testimonial banquet given in honor of his 58th birthday last night at the Palmer house. The dinner was attended by more than 2,000 persons. Judge Henry Horner of the Probate court was toastmaster, and Judge Frank D. Comerford of the Superior court reviewed Judge Sabath's career. Peter J. Schaefer, chairman of the banquet committee, made the presentation of the automobile at the close of the dinner, which was followed by dancing.

Fears Poverty for Wife; Tries to End Own Life

After six weeks of married life Alfred Wagner, 29, of 734½ Barry avenue, decided that the adage "Two can live as cheaply as one," was a myth. "I can't stand to think of forcing Irma to live a life of poverty," he told his brother-in-law, Alphonse Bogen, 2118 North Clark street, over the telephone yesterday. "She is away this afternoon and I'm going to get out of the way." Bogen notified the Sheffield avenue police. They went to Wagner's home and found him on the floor with two bullet wounds near his heart. He is expected to die.

AUTOS COLLIDE IN FOG; WOMAN DIES, 5 HURT

North Shore Road Is Scene of Crash.

Two automobiles driven by Chicagoans collided early yesterday morning during a heavy fog on Waukegan road west of North Chicago. Mrs. Flora Peterson, 62 years old, 628 Orleans street, was killed, and her son-in-law, Otto Schlange, his wife, and their three children were injured.

One of the children, Marion, 13 years old, suffered a fractured skull. The hurts of the others in the car were of a minor nature.

The driver of the second automobile was Morris Kahn, 4929 Keystone avenue. He was bruised and cut and was taken to a hospital for treatment. The Lake county authorities questioned him, but he was released when Schlange said the accident was unavoidable.

A third car same along a little later and to avoid striking those that had already crashed was skidded into a ditch. The police started a search for the occupants, at first believing they were responsible for the collision, but Schlange and Kahn absolved them.

Paul James, 34 years old, and John Derbyshire, 40 years old, both of LaPorte, Ind., were killed early yesterday morning when the automobile in which they were riding slipped off a road 6 miles north of LaPorte and crashed into a tree.

Frank Blatnis, 33 years old of Batavia, was killed when he was struck near his home by an automobile. The driver of the car did not stop.

Two deaths in Cook county yesterday raised the 1928 death toll to 217.

Mrs. Pauline Petro, 34 West Division street, was killed when the automobile of her husband, in which she was riding in Grand avenue, between Lincoln and Wood streets, was struck by another machine and overturned. Motorists rushed her to the County hospital but she was dead when they arrived.

John Quennan, 18 years old, 4257 Lowe avenue, died at the County hospital of injuries suffered on Thursday when he fell under the wheels of a truck at 13th street and Ashland avenue.

Crosley Boyd, 25 years old, of the Library Plaza hotel, Evanston, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. The Evanston police were informed he was driving 65 miles an hour and that other motorists had to take to the sidewalks to prevent collisions with his cars.

CATCH ROBBER ON SCENE.

The approach of a detective bureau squad yesterday proved fortunate to Louis Erickson, 10642 Avenue B, who had just been held up at Addison and Clark streets. Sergt. Patrick McShane captured Theodore Peterson, 24, of 1300 Addison street, and recovered $45 and a watch he had taken from Erickson.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get Liquid Arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

SMALL BEATEN DOWNSTATE, HIS FOES DECLARE

Cook County Against Him, Too, Glenn Says.

Having completed their downstate campaign except for a few engagements, leaders of the Lowden-Deneen state ticket returned to Chicago expressing confidence in victory, which they said was based on their personal observations as well as reports to their headquarters from all parts of the state.

Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, candidate for governor, was optimistic, but newspaper men believed he was outdone to some extent by Otis F. Glenn, candidate for the United States senatorship.

"The people downstate are aroused as they have not been in years," said Mr. Glenn, former state senator from Murphysboro, "and we feel confident that all the candidates on the anti-Small ticket will come up to Cook county with pluralities running from 100,000 to 150,000.

Put Confidence in Straw Votes.

"Many counties that Small carried four years ago are against him now. We base this opinion on straw votes, detailed canvasses made by trained political workers, and the judgment of veteran observers as well as what we saw and heard.

"Small has a large fund, amounting—I am told—to a million dollars, and he is pouring it into some of the counties, but he'll find he can't buy this election.

"In every district we visited we found his chief support came from state job holders and professional politicians. We found the mass of the voters against him. The third term issue and his record for two terms are obstacles that he can't overcome. We visited every congressional district downstate and in every one of them we found the real public sentiment against both Len Small and Frank L. Smith.

Sees Victory in Cook County.

"And I have no fear of the result in Cook county. The recent large registration in the big Republican wards showed the public interest and that can mean only one thing, for there certainly is no enthusiasm that would bring out a big vote for the Small ticket. The country towns of the county are solidly against Small and Smith.

"We will, I think, get an honest count this time, and if a large vote is polled in the big wards, where the Republican strength lies, we will carry the county by a safe margin."

One of the reports awaiting the candidates at their Hotel La Salle headquarters came from James M. Lyon of Pontiac, chairman of the Livingston county organization backing the ticket. This is Frank L. Smith's home county, but Lyon reported that although he carried it to the tune of 7,648 against 3,327 for McKinley two years ago the result this year will be close.

A report from McLean county was that this territory is now 3 to 1 against the Small ticket.

VICTIM OF STREET CAR DIES.

Clarence Walcott, 59, of 2147 North Kedzie avenue, died in the county hospital yesterday of injuries he received when he was struck by a Madison street car at Aberdeen street March 22.

POLITICAL NOTES

State Auditor Oscar Nelson, a candidate for renomination who heretofore has refused flatly to take sides for or against Gov. Len Small, is billed as chairman of the first of the Small-Thompson noonday loop meetings today. The rally is to be at the Olympic theater, and the speakers will include Mayor Thompson, Frank L. Smith, State's Attorney Crowe, and Judge Robert E. Gentzel.

Representatives of James J. Sullivan, candidate for Democratic committeeman of the Eighth ward, announced they had obtained more than 3,000 pledges for him.

Many of the 1,200 Methodist Episcopal churches in Illinois observed a general day of prayer yesterday at the request of the church's board of public morals. The supplications were for better government without reference to candidates or factions.

United States Senator Deneen returned to Washington last night with a statement that he will be back in Chicago some time this week ready to take the stump for the candidates he is supporting on state and county tickets.

P. H. Moynihan, candidate for Republican committeeman of the 10th ward against Elmer A. Brown, the Crowe entry, announced himself last night as the "home rule" candidate for the job.

RUTH M'CORMICK GOES 12,000 MILES IN HER CAMPAIGN

One woman candidate in the present campaign—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick—is believed to have made an Illinois record for her sex.

She left last night for the last three days of her downstate speeches and when she returns Thursday morning she will have traveled more than 12,000 miles by automobile alone and she will have spoken in 99 counties, in some of them two or three times. She has averaged between three and four speeches a day.

At noon today she will speak at Moline and tonight at Bushnell.

200 GRADUATED INTO PATRIOTISM BY 'AMERICA 1ST'

They're Given Diplomas and Medals, Too.

Nearly 200 employés of the Illinois Bell Telephone company walked out of the Olympic theater yesterday afternoon with medals on their chests marking them as devotees of America First. Having completed 20 lessons from the America First manual under the direction of Mayor Thompson's America First foundation, the neophytes were initiated into the ranks of good citizens with solemn ceremonies.

Besides the medals the newly created good citizens were given "diplomas" testifying to the ability of the holders to claim superior citizenship. Before the presentation, speeches on the constitution, George Washington, and citizenship were delivered. A number of the speakers were substitutes.

Urged to Preserve Manual.

"We expect you to manifest good citizenship rather than bad citizenship," T. A. Mills, an employé of the foundation, told the 200 in the address of welcome. "You may well preserve this America First manual, which may redirect your lives. So meritorious is this manual that it has been given the stamp of approval of the United States government."

"From what we have learned from the America First manual," Arthur Ryan, one of the students, declared in response, "we believe that there should be an eleventh commandment, 'Thou shalt not destroy the American flag.'"

"Every time I see the American flag," asserted Luther B. D'Armond, citizenship instructor, "I remember the words of my father, 'Here is the torch. Hold it high.'"

Bache Substitutes for Bogan.

Instead of William J. Bogan, acting superintendent of schools, Joseph L. Bache, director of continuation schools, was on the program.

"We used to get patriotism," said Mr. Bache, "from public exercises on the Fourth of July and other semi-patriotic holidays. But with the growth of population it has become impossible for Chicago to join in these patriotic exercises. Small groups must make up the deficiency. The work that the America First foundation is doing other organizations are doing, but not so efficiently nor with so much publicity."

"Citizenship is not good or bad. There are only good citizens and enemies of the community," were the words of Louis A. Bowman, representing President William R. Dawes of the Association of Commerce.

For Peace on Earth.

"In the name of Uncle Sam I appeal to you to take hold with us for peace on earth," Wilson L. Gill, a patriotic pamphleteer, told the graduating citizens.

Col. Robert L. Floyd of the American Legion called on the America First citizens to combat an alleged "youth movement" to overthrow the government. Another speaker was Harry F. Atwood, a lecturer on the constitution.

Rear Admiral Henry J. Ziegemier, commandant of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, pinned the America First badges on the graduates as they filed by him to the tune of "America the Beautiful." Brig. Gen. Paul B. Malone, acting commander of the 6th corps area, was scheduled to award the diplomas, but he was not there. Col. Nathaniel F. McClure represented him.

SIX CHICAGOANS IN CONGRESS GET BACKING OF WETS

Choices in Other Races Revealed by List.

Six Chicago members of congress were indorsed yesterday by the Illinois Association Opposed to Prohibition. They and their districts are the following:

1. Martin B. Madden	Republican
4. Thomas A. Doyle	Democrat
5. Adolph J. Sabath	Democrat
6. James T. Igoe	Democrat
8. Stanley H. Kunz	Democrat
9. Fred A. Britten	Republican

The report further said that in the Third district Henry P. Bergen, Democrat, is recommended; that Ingolf P. Pederson, Republican, is preferred in the Seventh, and that in the Tenth J. E. Vanderlip, Republican, and Joseph A. Weber, Democrat, are favored.

Indorse State Senators.

Two state senators, Frank McDermott, Democrat, from the Fourth senatorial district, and George A. Van Lent, Republican, from the second, were indorsed. Frank O. Sebring, Republican, was recommended in the Sixth, the district embracing Ravenswood, Rogers Park, and Evanston, now represented by Senator James J. Barbour.

In reference to candidates for the lower house of the general assembly, the report said:

"Ninety per cent of the candidates for the house of representatives from Cook county are intensely liberal and favorable to a repeal or modification of our tyrannical prohibition laws. Under these circumstances, we find it difficult to comply with the requests of many worthy (new) candidates who desire our indorsement, as we feel that the members of the legislature who have stood firm for our cause deserve first consideration."

O. K. 52 from Cook County.

Fifty-two candidates for representative from Cook county, who voted for modification at Springfield, were indorsed. In the 21st district, Henry W. Pfaff, Republican, received one of the indorsements, and in the 9th. Henry Sonnenschein, Democrat, was favored for the seat vacated by the death of Joseph Placek.

The Illinois Federation of Labor and the joint legislative board of labor organizations made public a long and detailed list of its recommendations concerning the legislature, including many indorsements of those who backed its demands at the last session and condemnation for those that opposed those demands.

ALDERMEN FAVOR VOTE FOR MAYOR AS NONPARTISAN

Results of a questionnaire sent to Chicago's fifty aldermen on the question of whether mayoralty elections should be on a nonpartisan basis were made public yesterday by the Municipal Voters' league. The responses of a large majority were in the affirmative.

"Nine years ago," reads the league statement, "the people of Chicago availed themselves of permission granted by the legislature to make the office of alderman nonpartisan.

"Most of the fifty aldermen have now also declared in favor of a nonpartisan election for mayor. Thirty-four council members out of 42 replying to a recent questionnaire strongly support this change, while only four oppose it, and four are in doubt."

Among the citations from aldermanic wisdom were these:

Ald. John S. Clark—The present system, a nonpartisan council with a partisan mayor is inconsistent. You can see that the aldermen have not asserted their authority. The system has been that the mayor runs the city.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough—A nonpartisan elected alderman is at great disadvantage if he attempts to show any independence at all.

Ald. Donald McKinlay—The effect of the present system is to divert the attention of the people from the real fitness of the candidates.

In political circles the report of the league raised the question whether the solution of the present problem does not lie in returning the aldermanic election to the party basis.

San Francisco, Cal., March 25.—(AP)—California rivers went on a rampage today. Heavy rains were the cause.

EASTER?
---the Chic Woman is Always Chic!

To the kind of woman who is the kind of woman who wears the kind of shoes that I. Miller makes, all this talk about Easter smartness is rather lacking in understanding!

It implies that only on one day of the year is she properly costumed or properly shod. It implies that her perception of the niceties of appearance and of the claims of culture is only on the qui vive at Easter time.

The I. Miller presentation is neither larger nor smaller, more fashionable nor less fashionable at Easter time than at any other moment of the two fashion seasons. We offer now, as at any other time, unusual shoes for unusual women in the usual I. Miller manner!

ORIENTAL RUGS

"THE fragrance of the rose remains long after its petals have been scattered to the winds. And so, the transcendant beauty of Oriental Rugs endures—even from generation to generation—a constant source of charming inspiration . . . Pro-rated through the years, the initial cost of Oriental Rugs becomes infinitesimal, and in the end a substantial saving is effected. Then, why should Oriental Rugs not be the universal floor-covering, since they pave the way to certain economy? . . Thirty-eight years is more than a third of a century; that's how long we've been buying and selling Oriental Rugs, exclusively; a long time, yes, we've made it a life study. QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for Calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

FAVORITE SONS FIRE ON HOOVER IN TWO STATES

Watson and Willis Attack His Republicanism.

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Fur will soon begin to fly in the Indiana Republican presidential contest.

Senator Watson [Rep., Ind.], favorite son aspirant, whose right to the Indiana delegation has been challenged by Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, will leave for his home state soon for a speaking campaign.

Farm relief along the lines of the McNary-Haugen bill, a high protective tariff, opposition to internationalism, insistence upon complete payment of foreign debts, and a flood control program with the federal government footing the entire bill will form the chief points in the Watson platform.

On international issues Senator Watson will take a view at variance with that of Secretary Hoover, who supported the league of nations, although with reservations, and joined with President Coolidge in advocacy of American participation in the world court.

Earlier Start in Ohio.

Inasmuch as the Indiana primary comes on May 8, two weeks later than the Ohio primary on April 24, activities are slower in starting than in Ohio, where Senator Willis [Rep., O.], favorite son candidate, is on the stump with violent attacks on Mr. Hoover.

Senator Willis is advocating the same principles as Senator Watson proposes to discuss. Senator Willis, however, is devoting himself chiefly to assaults upon Secretary Hoover's record. He questions the secretary's Republicanism in view of his post-war appeal for the election of a congress to support President Wilson. He dwells upon Secretary Hoover's long absence from the country. He assails Secretary Hoover's attitude toward agriculture and his record as food administrator during the war.

Distrusts Hoover's Dryness.

As a leading spokesman for the Anti-Saloon league, Senator Willis suggests that Mr. Hoover has not conclusively established his dryness.

The Ohio senator voted against the McNary-Haugen bill in the last congress and has generally been a much more consistent supporter of the Coolidge administration than Senator Watson.

Friends of Secretary Hoover will defend his Republicanism and explain that his indorsement of the Wilson appeal for a Democratic congress was due to post-war readjustment needs.

Former Representative Joseph W. Fordney of Michigan, one of the authors of the present tariff law, has written a letter vouching for Mr. Hoover's regularity as a Republican protectionist.

Missouri G. O. P. Meets Today.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 25.—[U. P.]—With a 3 year old elephant on the platform giving the convention a circus atmosphere, Missouri Republicans will convene tomorrow to select seven delegates at large to the national convention.

The Lowden forces will have a majority of the delegates to the state meeting, and it was predicted they would work for instructed delegates to the national convention. Supporters of other presidential aspirants will work for an uninstructed delegation.

EX-CONVICT SHOT AS HE TRIES TO KILL POLICEMAN

The unerring aim of Detective Thomas E. Connelly was credited yesterday with having saved the life of a brother officer, Sergt. James McCarthy of the detective bureau, upon whom the gun of an ex-convict had been trained early during a raid on a beer flat at 2721 Indiana avenue.

George Gerts, said to be a labor agent and formerly an inmate of Waupun pentitentiary, Wisconsin, fell under the rapid fire of Connelly with wounds in the head, back, and one leg. He was shot down only after his own revolver had twice failed to explode when he snapped the trigger. At the Bridewell hospital it was said he will probably die. Six of the eleven men taken into custody have criminal records, it was asserted.

THE SCYLLA OF FASCISM AND THE CHARYBDIS OF COMMUNISM.

We all plainly see two diverse trends in Europe today. We call them Fascist and communist.

The essence of fascism is the control of the state by a self-appointed few who administer it in behalf of the established order. The few achieve mastery through the use of force and moral fervor. That was the program of fascism in its early days when it was in direct conflict with communism in Italy and, in the main, is the program of fascism today. Prohibition is the soul of fascism. It discards as outworn the belief that the people can conduct the government. It insists that a government of the holy few shall dictate the private lives of all people.

The essence of communism is equalitarianism. The communist is horrified at the thought of one man having more wealth or goods than another. The communist aims at equal division, and even if equal division results in industrial stagnation, individual starvation and ruin, he will have it. The two systems share a belief in coercion of the individual by government to force him into the desired pattern.

It has not yet become generally evident that these are the great rival issues in this country, but such is the fact. It would be a mistake to search for one in the Republican and the other in the Democratic party. The Fascist-communist conflict does not separate the organizations of office holders and office seekers, but dominates blocs in each of them.

Our Fascists work through both the Democratic and Republican parties. Subscriptions by the same individual to both campaign funds are frequent. The successive disclosures before the Smith-Vare and the Teapot Dome committees indicate how widespread this practice has become. The use to which wealth has put the Anti-Saloon league is Fascist in essence. The league has supplied the cloak of righteousness in both parties. The league also supplies the puritanical moral fervor which has its counterpart in Italy in the campaigns of fascism against vice and personal extravagance. It presses the courts to break down the constitutional safeguards they are especially charged to protect. It encourages illegal and homicidal conduct by public officers.

The opposite tendency also cuts across party lines. The subways in Democratic New York City are operated at a loss on a 5 cent fare, and the deficit is taken from taxes. The theory is that the rich are taxed to pay for the car rides of the poor. The result is that the subways are insufficient, overcrowded, and insanitary. Similarly, New York has laws restricting the rights of landlords to charge what they can get for tenement rooms. The effect has been to stop all building of low priced dwellings and to bring the old ones to utter dilapidation, but the communists heed not.

A Democratic city administration is responsible for one of these measures and a Republican legislature for the other. At Washington what can be thought of as the communist influence is at work in both parties with respect to Muscle Shoals. There is a large bloc in congress, perhaps a majority, made up of both Republicans and Democrats, in favor of government operation of Muscle Shoals to make fertilizer. They know Muscle Shoals cannot produce fertilizer as cheaply as it can be produced by other methods. If the government goes into the fertilizer business at Muscle Shoals it will sell its nitrates at a loss, and a valuable power will be put to a frivolous use which in private hands would add greatly to the wealth of the continent.

The shipping board operates at a loss and does not render adequate service. Private management could avoid the loss and provide the service, but the communist spirit in congress will not tolerate it. The proposal, which has passed the house, to equalize radio facilities all over the country supplies another illustration. If enacted, it will destroy property rights and take radio programs from those who patronize them in order to produce radio among people who have shown that they do not want it.

It must be said that fascism frequently enhances prosperity, but if it does so it is at the cost of freedom and happiness. Fascism can hardly avoid deteriorating through tyranny to stagnation. Communism offers as little. In the guise of popular institutions it introduces anarchy.

This conflict is not a new thing in America. It was present at the founding of the nation. In a new guise it is the old struggle between the Federalists and the Republicans, between Hamilton and Jefferson. After the great service of the Federal party had been rendered, the party represented nothing but tyranny and corruption, and its militancy lay in the use of the federal courts to crush political opposition and in the virulent support of the political clergymen of that day. Its defeat in 1801 was necessary to save the republic.

Jefferson's government ended tyranny, but it indulged in many vagaries. Only the resistance of John Marshall and the common sense of the people prevented, by a perilously small margin, the catastrophe which frequently threatened.

Today we are again faced by these old internal perils. We may be closer to them than most of us realize.

We may need another Jefferson and another Marshall to preserve our existence.

THE WORTH OF AN ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ENDORSEMENT.

The Anti-Saloon League of Illinois has come out with its endorsements of candidates for congress and the state assembly, and once more it proves that a league endorsement is a guarantee of only one thing, that the endorsee is officially, though not necessarily personally, dry. So far as other qualifications for office are concerned it means nothing, and in some cases rather less than nothing.

The league omits endorsement of Frank L. Smith for the senatorship on this present occasion, though no reason is given for this sudden exhibition of rectitude and conscience. The league placed its endorsement on him in 1926, when the revelations concerning his acceptance of the utilities contributions were still fresh, and refused to endorse an untainted man equally dry, saying that Smith had the better chance to win. His character was not in question—only his willingness to abide by the league's dictates. It is to be noted, however, that though the league may not be endorsing Mr. Smith now, at least it endorses no one else for the office.

But the real test of the Anti-Saloon league endorsement stands at the very beginning of its list of approved congressmen. Frank R. Reid of Aurora, candidate for reëlection from the Eleventh district, holds the place of honor.

In congress, Mr. Reid is a dry. In practice he is a crony and political pal of the same William Hale Thompson who won the mayoralty of Chicago by promising a wide open town and boasting that he was dripping wet. Reid has played hand in glove with Thompson; he hopped on the bandwagon in order to play the Thompson waterway and flood control selection. Thompson does the ballyhooing; Reid does the congressional work. He is going to help Big Bill—who has never explained how it can be done via a nine foot channel—to bring those oceangoing steamboat whistles to Chicago harbor. Pal of dripping wet William, Mr. Reid is still acceptable to the Anti-Saloon league.

The incongruity does not trouble the league. Neither does the fact that Mr. Reid, while a member of the house and chairman of the house flood control committee, should have held a job under the Thompson administration as special corporation counsel at a salary of $50 a day. It happens that the state constitution prohibits such doubling in offices of honor and profit. There is no doubt that Mr. Reid's $50 a day could be recovered were the sum total large enough to make it worth while to start a taxpayer's suit. Corporation Counsel Ettelson is quoted as explaining that he told Reid this per diem racket wouldn't do, but that the congressman insisted.

The Anti-Saloon league endorsement denotes one thing and one thing only—that the candidate is amenable and casts a dry vote. Outside of that he may accept money from utility heads while chairman of the state commerce commission, pal with dripping wets, and take money from the city treasury while a member of congress. This in Illinois; or he may loot the federal treasury in Ohio; or wear a hood, and graft in Indiana; or whip white women and steal from Negroes in some parts of the south.

THE RUSSIANS GET THE GATE.

M. Litvinoff has delivered his reproaches to the league of nations for the refusal of the leading powers to accept the Russian proposal for complete and immediate disarmament. The United States is particularly included in the reproach, it being the proponent of a scheme for the outlawry of war but the opponent of disarmament to go along with such agreements.

The league had a full opportunity to demonstrate itself as completely not on the square, and it could not avoid making full use of it. Russia being as completely off the level, the full scene was ponderously hypocritical. Evidently there were moments when the whole matter might have come to plain speaking. Lord Cushendun, for Great Britain, nearly told the Russians what in effect their proposals were, and Litvinoff nearly told the league what it was, but there was too much prudence for a satisfactory rough and tumble.

The secretariat will pick up the beans and at a more suitable time the league will resume a discussion of how to disarm without disarming. But nothing much need be added to the picture of a solemn faced fraud. The league is in existence to defend the inequities of the Versailles treaty and to extend them when opportunity presents itself. It is indifferent to the many miseries inflicted by the arrangement and wants to hear nothing about them.

It is indecent of the Tyrol to complain of Italian oppression, because nothing will be done about it and consequently nothing should be said about it. Roumanian outrages against populations violently transferred to its jurisdiction or seized by it are out of humanitarian consideration at Geneva. The bullying of Austria by Mussolini is a matter of no consequence. If people are miserable under the arrangements made to carve up enemies or create balancing groups of hostile peoples, that is incidental to the confirmed purpose of getting the most possible and keeping it.

For Russia to talk disarmament was a farce humanized by the embarrassment it caused the pious, who knew exactly how to rip the soviet proposal to pieces but did not dare because they knew how hollow their own pretensions would sound if soundly thumped.

Editorial of the Day

MERCHANT MARINE AND THE WEST.

[Illinois State Journal, Springfield.]

"The real sea lords are in the middle west, for cargoes for all oceans originate here. If any section should be interested in the development of the merchant marine it is the middle west." These were the truthful words of Col. Sidney Storey in an address to public utility men gathered in this city for their annual conventions. Col. Storey developed his theme from this text in an admirable manner.

The State Journal often has tried to impress upon its readers the importance of the merchant marine to the middle west. Because we do not happen to be located on a sea coast and do not actually see the ships and have no direct contact with them, we seem to neglect the issue that is offered the country in the plans for the rebuilding of a merchant marine system. The truth is that as manufacturing and commercial industry increases in this middle west all reasons for its concern for the merchant marine become tremendously important.

How to Keep Well, By Dr. W. A. Evans.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

A GOOD SCHOOL RECORD FOR HEALTH'S SAKE.

DR. A. M. CARR has a method by which the school teacher can keep a record of the health of pupils, and it has some advantage. The record sheet has printed on it a diagram of the schoolroom. The positions of the desks are indicated. There are forty desks, eight in each of five rows. Each desk is given a number and the students are designated thereby. When a student is absent a cross is made on the desk as shown on the diagram. If he is sick the letter "S" is used, and if he has a form of contagion the first letter of the disease is also written in.

The theory on which this plan is based is that some colds and other contagion are spread by contact in the schoolroom and while the pupils are at their desks.

Several years ago an epidemiologist of the Minnesota department of health used the method for visualizing the spread of an epidemic in a school in his state.

In the northwest corner of the chart is a table for recording the kind of lunches the children had. The lunches are scored as good, fair or poor, meaning nutritious, fairly nutritious, and not suited to a growing child. Another entry showed how many had milk with their lunch and how many did not.

In the southwest corner is a table on which the children were divided into the number malnourished, borderline, normal, and overweight. On the right hand side of the chart was space for a record of weather and air conditions in the schoolroom. The weather record shows clear, cloudy, rain and snow and a record of the temperature. Another bit of space is arranged to show how many of the children wore rubbers. Some space on that right side may be used for recording ventilation, heating, humidity, and comfort in the schoolroom.

The plan contemplates the use of this record sheet by the school teacher. At the end of the month it may be submitted to the health department, to the school board and to the Parent-Teachers' association.

GALLSTONES.

S. R. B. writes: What would dissolve gallstones in a woman aged 34?

REPLY.

Nothing will dissolve gallstones.

However, this does not mean that the stones do not cease from causing symptoms either with or without treatment.

NATURAL METHODS BETTER.

A. C. C. writes: Is taking a tablespoonful of mineral oil every evening before retiring harmful? I am told this will help to avoid constipation.

REPLY.

I don't think so.

I presume you have tried more natural methods of establishing a better habit.

SPRAYING THE THROAT.

M. M. M. writes: Is it correct and necessary to spray the throat every morning with an atomizer containing a patent medicine?

Can it be overdone if throat is not sore?

REPLY.

Experiments have shown that the upper respiratory tract has a marvelous germ killing capacity. It is doubtful if any spray equals it. It is also doubtful if the use of any spray helps it.

Let nature take its course.

REVERTING NIPPLE.

R. E. D. writes: Is it a serious matter for the nipple of the right breast to revert, going in almost all the time?

Do you know of anything that would cause this, and would it help to massage with cocoa butter or witch hazel?

REPLY.

Inverted nipple is not a rare condition.

It is not a source of danger.

It can be overcome by patient manipulation.

CHILD EATS RAW POTATOES.

Mrs. L. L. writes: I have a little boy, going on three years old, who just loves to eat raw potatoes. Do you think it will harm him any? He enjoys them more than apples.

REPLY.

There is no great harm in eating raw starch. However, the appetite for raw starch is somewhat unnatural.

Is your child getting a well balanced diet? Is he finicky?

SLIGHTLY DEAF; WORRIED.

Miss M. A. writes: I am 20 years old, and for five years I have been treated for middle ear deafness. I am very slightly deaf. I can hear conversation in an ordinary speaking voice. I am the only one in the family thus afflicted. None of my ancestors was deaf.

Will you please tell me whether my children will inherit my deafness?

REPLY.

The evidence indicates that your deafness is acquired and, therefore, will not be transmitted.

While on the subject of you and your deafness—are you learning to lip read?

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

Chicago, March 15.—[Friend of the People.]—Coming west on Jackson boulevard at Dearborn street the motor coaches make a left turn. Can a private car make this same turn, and, if not, why? R. M.

Relative to left-hand turn at Jackson boulevard and Dearborn streets on the part of motor coaches, I wish to state that this privilege has been granted to them by the commerce commission of the state of Illinois. These coaches are public conveyances and come under the regulations of that body.
MICHAEL HUGHES,
Superintendent of Police.

CITIZENS MAY VOTE.

Chicago, Ill., March 22.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Thirty years ago my mother married my stepfather. When he became a citizen I was 19 years old. At the age of 21 I was told at the polls I could vote. I have never voted. Do you think I would be allowed? I use my own father's name? J. F.

If you were born in this country you are a citizen by virtue of that fact, regardless of the name by which you were called, and you may vote as far as your citizenship is concerned.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WANTS PROTECTION.

Chicago, March 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—[1] Would a debt which was contracted on March 7, 1921, be outlawed at the present date? A note was signed for it.

[2] The man who holds this note erased the signature of one of the witnesses. Would this make the note invalid providing I can prove my statement?

[3] The debtor moved to Chicago two days after contracting this debt. Does the act of moving into another state make it impossible to collect the debt? E. M. S.

1. The limitation period on such written contracts is ten years.

2. We incline to the opinion that it would. The negotiable instruments law expressly provides that a material alteration avoids the instrument in the hands of a party to the alteration. While the primary purpose of the witness' signature is to identify the signing by the maker, it also serves some function in protecting the maker against such alterations as changes in the amount and hence we would consider the maker in a position to regard the erasure as material.

3. No.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 26, 1863.

MURFREESBORO.—A large body of rebel cavalry under Wheeler and Stearns made a sudden dash on Brentwood station, between Franklin and Nashville, capturing 200 infantry and their stores.

CINCINNATI.—Exciting reports concerning fighting in Kentucky are in circulation. The Rev. Mr. Messick, who arrived in Lexington from Danville, reported that the rebels under Breckinridge and Pegram, from 8,000 to 12,000 strong, were marching on Danville, and but a few miles from the city. Walford's First Kentucky cavalry was holding the advance of the rebels in check, while the federals were falling back to the fortifications at Lexington. Gen. Carter, who was at Richmond, is also falling back to Lexington. The rebel force is believed to be Longstreet's division.

MEMPHIS.—Advices from the fleet off Vicksburg are that two of Farragut's vessels, the Hartford and the Albatross, have arrived at Vicksburg. Seven of Farragut's ships ran the blockade at Port Hudson at night under a terrific fire from the rebel batteries, but five of them returned down the river. The Jackson Appeal says that Gen. Banks failed to make a land attack and Farragut went on alone.

CHICAGO.—"Buck" Morris, an old gentleman who ought to be in sackcloth and ashes making his peace with heaven—a man bitterly opposed to the government and to the war—is a Copperhead candidate for the mayoral nomination! Poor old man!

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 26, 1898.

WASHINGTON.—Black is the war paint of the navy. Orders were issued today to cover the white sides of the Atlantic squadron with black paint. This action reflects accurately the belief in the navy department that war with Spain is inevitable. President McKinley has been officially informed that the Maine was blown up in Havana harbor by a floating mine. The cabinet was in session all day, and the note to Spain informing that country of the finding of the board of inquiry was drawn up tonight at the White House under the personal supervision of the President. The substance of the report has been cabled to Minister Woodford at Madrid to be communicated to the Spanish government.

KEY WEST, Fla.—Hot on the heels of the report of the board of inquiry that the Maine was blown up by a submarine mine came orders for the Mangrove to sail to Havana with the fastest possible speed to take off all American officials and officers of the Maine, and return to Key West, leaving only Consul Lee there.

WASHINGTON.—Commodore Winfield Scott Schley has been ordered to take command of the flying squadron at Hampton Roads, and there is a growing belief that he will be ordered to intercept the Spanish torpedo boat flotilla which has sailed from the Canaries before it can reach Puerto Rico. The Brooklyn will be Commodore Schley's flagship.

CHICAGO.—The Arché club elected Mrs. Walter Olds, president; Mrs. Charles Millspaugh and Mrs. Harrison D. Bogardus, vice presidents; Mrs. Seymour Morris, recording secretary; Mrs. E. L. Murfey, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. R. Dickerson, treasurer.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 26, 1918.

BATTLE NEWS.—Battling for every point of vantage, giving ground only when overwhelmed by numbers, and exacting a frightful toll of lives for every foot of ground abandoned, the British line in Picardy is still intact. While the German onslaught gained ground at a number of points yesterday there was no sign of disintegration of the British forces. Lloyd George sent a message to Field Marshal Haig stating that men necessary to replace all casualties and cannon and machine guns to make good all those lost in the German drive are either now in France or on their way. The largest gains made by the Germans in the last twenty-four hours have been west of San Quentin, where they captured Nesle and Guiscard. The fall of Bapaume early yesterday was a blow to the British. The fighting is of the most desperate and sanguinary kind all along the front. Berlin claims that 45,000 prisoners have been taken. French forces fighting around Noyon, to the south of St. Quentin, though retiring slowly, are carrying out strong counter attacks.

WASHINGTON.—The third Liberty loan, to open April 6, will be for three billion dollars and all oversubscriptions at 4¼ per cent interest.

WASHINGTON. — Complete confidence that the allied troops will check the terrific German drive was expressed by President Wilson and Maj. Gen. Peyton March, the army chief of staff.

CHICAGO. — Miss Bertha Carter Stevens, daughter of Mrs. Edward D. Stevens, 4504 Greenwood avenue, and Lieut. Harry H. De Clerque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry De Clerque, will be married this evening at the residence of the bride's mother.

AL SMITH is usually right, but he slipped Saturday. He said that the passing of a law by the New York legislature regarding fish worms for bait was senseless and trivial. Oh, Al! now that the snow and ice have gone, the green is getting ready to come back in the trees, the lakes and rivers are dimpling in the sunshine, and the bass and the trout are slapping their fat sides with their little tails and daring us to catch them, please don't say that. Nothing relating to fish worms can be senseless and trivial. Oh, Al, don't! You are hurting us.

My Most Embarrassing Moment

AN UNPREFERRED BRUNETTE.

"I Thought I Was Standing Still," Said Joe

Dick: It can't be long now! I see the Rush St. worm rampant on a field of discarded flannels gules. The golf is singing a birdie song and motors are warbling on the highroads (ah, how mine does chirp). But what I started to say was that all is not spring that sprinkles, nor is (are) all that honks wild geese. We met Joe this morning and he looked like the Innocent Bystander at a collegiate spring celebration. "Have an accident?" we asked. "Naw," says he, "got this driving the car down the Dixie highway yesterday." "And then?" thens we. "Then one of them new peacock flivvers passed me so fast I thought I was standing still, and I jumped out to see whatinell was the matter with the dam engine.

DAY BY DAY IN FORT RILEY

Dick: Receiving a bill from a bootlegger in Chicago this morning, same forwarded on request if you doubt me, threatening me with legal action for not paying for two cases of beer, I fell to wondering what grounds he would base his plea on, in court, and laughed so hard I like to drowned in my coffee for imagining the case with the plaintiff on the stand. . . . But I shall pay it, for the party whereat it was consumed was the best last season, though two fell into the bath tub while a-fishing for cold bottles. . . .

Some time since, seven letters arrived, all postmarked Chicago, with dates two months old and all demanding immediate answers, and Lord, I am concerned with how to answer them, for none will believe my telling the truth, though one inclosed a check for money borrowed last year, and if I cash it now their balance will be upset and I will be doubly blamed. . . . A letter from Alice McK. in the mail, with an air stamp on it, took four days to get here, and I am wondering did Lindbergh carry it while he shuttled back and forth from St. Louis. . . . Rewriting a short story this week, I put the heroine to humming the King of England, with astonishing results, for, the characters getting out of control, she eloped with the villain and left the hero being strong and silent in a stranded car, waiting for her with a marriage license. . . . I doubt if I can sell it, but a mother first and a writer later is my motto. . . .

Reviving the ancient institution of bull sessions, I find that coffee and talk whiles away many an evening, and that I grow better contented away from Chicago, even refusing to go to a house party there without a regret, though how I could afford it this month is a question, having $2 to last me this week . . . and bull sessions here invariably turn soon or late on the proposed Nicaraguan canal or the state of Lithuania's allegiance, in which case I put on Negro spirituals and they drift to sentimental ballads or tin school stories of their bad youth which are much more interesting though debatably veracious. . . . The army full dress blues seem slated to return, and if they do I shall feel like a chorine in a Viennese comedy, which I have long thought the pleasantest occupation in the world. . . . Have you heard from Dinny recently? Is he still knocking 'em cold? NANCY SHORES.

POLITICS—TEAPOT DOME—VICE IN CHICAGO—we'd trade 'em all to stand on the deck of somebody's ship and hear the fat man leaning next us on the rail say, "Do you see that green spot rising out of the ocean 'way over there? Well, that's Ireland." Or the fat man could say, "Well, that's England—or Spain—or New Guinea—we wouldn't care, just so it was far away from POLITICS—TEAPOT DOME—VICE IN CHICAGO.

He Said and She Said

R. H. L.: "What kind of lipstick do you use?" he said.

"Kissproof," she said.

"Well, rub it off," he said. "We've got work to do!" SWANEE THE HICK.

Oh, Dearie, You'll Need More than One Envelope

R. H. L.: About this doubling contributions—one today, two tomorrow, four the next. I don't quite get the idea. Will it be necessary to put a 2 cent stamp on each contrib, or can I put them all in one envelope? I have decided to put as many as possible on one sheet of paper. And on the thirtieth day I'll receive from you my jeweled M T L pin, won't I? And a big box of candy? Remember now, you promised.

OUR SACRED CAUSE is wabbling badly. All we collected yesterday to give Sen. Borah to hand to Mr. Sinclair were six pants buttons from Old Soak, seven cigar bands from Ted the Dizzy Blonde, five Len Small campaign buttons and two tickets to the 1925 Illinois State Fair from R. F. W., and a Mussolini lira from O. D. Richardson. Brothers and sisters, this will not do. We cannot help Sen. Borah wipe the stain from the Republican party in this way. Our collectors will again pass among you.

THE VOICE OF CICERO.

Cicero, Ill., March 23.—For many months the Chicago newspapers and the people of Chicago broadcast ridiculous and fictitious news from coast to coast about the disreputable town of Cicero and its riotous citizens. How it hurts! How unjust and unreasonable it was to the hard working and home loving people of the town to see in bold type column after column of hideous and false statements staring them in the face day after day. If any violation of a law was committed near the boundary of the town, the papers didn't hesitate in dragging the name Cicero in it.

Now you are squirming and offering excuses. Chicago has a shady reputation, we will admit, but considering the size of the town and the varieties of nationalities, such conditions are hardly avoidable, although they can be improved. But why can't Chicago take its medicine? Why squirm and offer excuses? In my opinion it is a repetition of the old saying, "It's different when it happens to you."

We know it is easy to criticize some one, but harder to be criticized. You've got to admit you were wrong about our town because you couldn't prove anything. We admit our saloons sell booze, that we have gambling. So has the city of Chicago, and the state's attorney knows that. But we can say that our reputations are cleaner, our criminal record is the lowest, we have the fewest boys in reform schools, the cleanest homes, streets and alleys, the least corruption in politics and the lowest taxes and one of the best fire departments in the state, and last but not least—real, true, honest and hard working, home loving people residing in Cicero.

Does that warrant criticism from Chicago? No, indeed! Let him who is without sin cast the first stone. All we ask is justice. Take your medicine as we had to. A. E. SVEC.

CHICAGO'S REPUTATION.

Chicago, March 23.—I am only a young lad with a few years to go before I am out of my teens. I surely enjoyed that article you had in your paper about what other countries and people thought about Chicago. While I was in Europe two years ago I chanced to pick up a German newspaper and on glancing through it saw the following headline. "Chicago the Murder Hole of the World." Another instance was when I asked a man in Bermuda why he did not come to Chicago and get work, as he was not satisfied with his work and salary. The answer I received was, "Do you think I want to step out in the street and get shot?" You are liable to get that answer from most all people you ask that question out there. HAROLD DICKOW.

POLITICAL POSTERS.

Chicago, Ill., March 22.—Now is the time to stop placarding city light poles, police and fire alarm boxes and Surface Lines poles with political posters. A few posters are up in the loop and some on the outskirts, but all of them are eyesores. Please help. H. FERDINAND.

OLD SILVER.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 15.—In our war of 1861 the last stopping place of Gen. Sherman on his celebrated march to the sea, before reaching the sea, was at White Hall, Brian county, 18 miles from Savannah, Ga. He made his headquarters at a plantation owned by Louisa C. Gindrat, wife of Richard Arnold. They were my grandparents.

One of the officers stationed there at that time, my grandparents being absent, carried home, when he left, the trunk of old family silver, some 18 dozen hand silver and other pieces. I find no fault in this; it was part of the conflict. But I wonder if now that years have passed and ill feeling, I trust, is a thing of the past also, the officer or his children or heirs would not consider making some arrangement whereby it could be returned to the family. The officer lived in Chicago then and afterward.

I would gladly pay something to have it back, as I was named for both grandparents and have a strong feeling for family things. I know full well the silver is of no great value, if marked. Some of this had "L. C. G.," some "G.," some "C.," and some "McK." ARNOLD GINDRAT TALB

DRAFT COOLIDGE.

Chicago, March 22.—American citizens who have any love for their country and hope for her future will denounce in no uncertain terms Bill Thompson's "Draft Coolidge" campaign. It is a shameful and open attempt to gain uninstructed delegates from Illinois to the Republican convention in Kansas City, delegates to be bargained and sold that Thompson might realize his ambitions to national fame. I. B. F.

NEIGHBORHOOD SALOONS.

Chicago, March 22.—Can you tell me why it is that we who aspire to decency and live in what should be a decent neighborhood have to contend with blind pigs? We who wish to be decent can avoid cabarets and other public places and can keep our children away from such environment, but we cannot keep them off the streets. We cannot convey them to and fro under protection.

We live at 3961 South Campbell avenue. On the west side of Western avenue from 39th to 40th streets we have five speakeasy joints and most any time of the evening you can see men staggering out of there. I was attacked by a drunk one night as he came out of one of them.

Surely it would be better to have a legitimate saloon business and serve pure goods at a moderate price than to serve such rot as makes a beast out of a man. There are more drunks now than during the time of saloons. I am asking what can be done? The police officers seem to think only big places should be closed. Again I say, it is the neighborhood joints that should be closed. The children of today are the men and women of tomorrow. Let's protect them. MRS. ALICE C. ALLEN.

MELLON AND COUZENS.

Streator, Ill., March 22.—I was interested in your editorial today about Secretary Mellon and Senator Couzens, and I think Secretary Mellon acted very discreetly in not getting into the bond mixup, but there was no evidence at that time [five years ago] that the Sinclair bonds were tainted with fraud. Sinclair claimed that neither he nor his representatives had ever given Secretary Fall any money or other thing of value, and there was no evidence that he had, but the extent of the scandal at that time was that Doheny had loaned Fall $100,000. Doheny was in no way connected with Sinclair or the Teapot Dome lease.

The first time the bonds came into the scandal was when Fall's son-in-law testified a few months ago that the bonds had been delivered to him for Fall; and since that time any mention of bonds brings a suspicion of fraud and crookedness into the minds of the public.

That Secretary Mellon refused at that time to have anything to do with the bonds shows that he was quite discreet and shrewd in keeping clear of scandal, though at that time there was no known evidence that the deal was not all right. Secretary Mellon was no more required to proclaim abroad that bonds were given and sold to make up a deficit than he would be to tell of any other contribution, though, in the light of the facts that have been revealed within a few months, not known five years ago, the contribution of the bonds looks very bad. We think Secretary Mellon showed keen discretion in the matter. CITIZEN.

PESKA DEMANDS REPORT OF GIFTS TO MISS BINFORD

Renews Attack on Juvenile Association.

Decrying what he termed her "unfair, unjust and ex-parte statements" and her work, which he said, savors of "scandal service" instead of social service, City Prosecutor Frank Peska yesterday renewed his dispute over public dance halls with Miss Jessie Binford, superintendent of the Juvenile Protective association. He demanded that she make public all donations received from the Association of Ballroom Managers.

Calls for Detail of Gifts.

Referring to Miss Binford's statement that the ballroom managers had made a small contribution to the protective association, he wrote:

"You do not indicate just what constitutes this 'small contribution.' I therefore call upon the good citizens of Chicago to decide this matter by requesting you to make public the exact and all amounts so received."

Renewing the topic of the taxi dance hall on the near north side where a Juvenile Protective association matron was stationed and where he said discreditable conditions prevail, the prosecutor calls attention to the character of three girls arrested in raids, who gave their occupations as instructresses there.

Promises Full Support.

"In the face of this and other information, I cannot understand why you persist in further dispute of the character of this particular place," he said.

In the absence of Miss Binford, who is out of town over the week-end, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowene, president of the Juvenile Protective association, who has just returned from California, defended the superintendent and the organization.

"It is surely incomprehensible to me," she said, "to understand Mr. Peska's motives in these attacks upon the association, which has worked with him whenever the opportunity offered.

"We have not the slightest objection to submitting a public report of the ballroom managers' donations to us. They were accepted with the specific understanding that they in no way affected our right to criticize anything we found wrong in the ballrooms. Records are not available today, but I can safely say that over a period of seven years, their contributions approximated about $2,100, exclusive of the small automobile they provided for our investigators."

WHY ARE YANKS IN NICARAGUA? HERE'S ANSWER

Invited by Both Sides to Pacify Nation.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PANAMA, March 25.—Why don't we get Sandino?

Why was the election law beaten in Nicaragua?

What are we doing there, anyway?

Have we backed the wrong horse?

These questions were fired at me by a Democratic congressman from New York state who is visiting Panama within a few hours after I had arrived here from Nicaragua. They followed other questions of a similar nature asked by Americans aboard the Venezuela, on which I traveled from Corinto to Panama.

Why don't we get Sandino?

This outlawed leader has been an exile from his country for many years, having fled to Mexico after being charged with murder. He returned, and with a small band of revolutionists attempted to join the Liberal cause, but Gen. Moncada refused to accept or to arm him. He armed himself and played a part in the revolution.

When other unit commanders laid down their arms he indicated he would not disarm his band unless he was properly salved, and if money was forthcoming he would join the others in submission to the Liberal and Conservative leaders. He wasn't salved, and he took to the hills.

As long as the towns and villages were unoccupied by marines, Sandino was perfectly safe from attack there, for strict orders had been given U. S. fliers not to fire upon or bomb any of the outlaw forces when such fire would endanger lives of noncombatants. Time and again they located him in towns, but could not "cut loose." When Sandino marched, he traveled under cover of an almost impenetrable jungle of the hills by day, or if forced to pass through planted areas, he went by night.

Driven Into Jungle.

The marines' occupation of the entire inhabited district took a long time. Movement of supplies was impossible until after the rains ceased in November, and even during the dry season it is exceedingly difficult. Villages were pleading frantically for marines months before it was possible to supply a force.

Sandino is now driven out of the populated districts into the rugged, jungle covered hills of the border region. He is not in a position to do material damage, but he is still able to fight by ambushing small patrols. The end is certain.

Want U. S. Military Governor.

Why was the election law beaten in Nicaragua?

Because the Conservatives, although they signed the Tipitapa agreement in good faith, fear to trust the future of their country to the results of one supervised election. They would far rather see an American military governor than see the Liberals come into office, unless they are assured that, at the end of a four year term, they will be able to go to the country with a chance to win through another supervised election.

The Conservatives know they face a hard battle now, with Liberal sentiment strong. They also feel that, even though beaten this year, the Liberals would win a supervised election in 1932. Gen. Chamorro's opposition to the McCoy bill was based on this line of reasoning. He offered to withdraw his opposition if the United States would agree to supervise elections over a period of years. When the Nicaraguan congress failed to pass the bill, President Diaz decreed the necessary authority under which Brig. Gen. McCoy will supervise the election in October.

Why Yanks Are There.

Why are we in Nicaragua?

After the Liberal dictator, Gen. Zelaya, had failed in his dream of becoming dictator of Central America, the United States was asked by the Nicaraguan government to assist in straightening out the financial tangle in Nicaragua. Then, as now, we landed marines to protect property. We responded to the prayers of a war-torn nation by giving them the best financial advice and assistance we could, and within a few years we had placed the finances of the country on a firm basis. We maintained a legation guard of 200 marines and Nicaragua had peace.

In 1924 a coalition government, with a Conservative president and a Liberal vice president, was elected. In 1925 we made our first serious blunder. The administration, heckled by Senator Borah, who demanded to know why the marines were in a peaceful country, responded by saying that their work was done and withdrew them in July of that year. Within a month Gen. Chamorro, leader of the Conservative party, had seized the government through a coup d'état.

The Conservative president, Carlos Solorzano, and the Liberal vice president, Dr. Sacasa, fled the country, as did several Liberal deputies. To all intents and purposes Nicaragua was back where she was in the days of Zelaya.

Liberals Begin Revolt.

Gen. Chamorro seized the government despite the warning that he would not be recognized by the United States. Almost immediately Liberal revolutionary leaders commenced to form an army in the east, under the leadership of Gen. Moncada. Its activities were directed by Sacasa from Guatemala. In August, 1926, American bluejackets were landed at Bluefields to protect foreign lives and property against the revolutionists who were marching on the place.

A truce was reached in November whereby Gen. Chamorro resigned, the Liberal deputies who had fled were permitted to return, and the legislature chose Don Adolfo Diaz as president, in accord with the Nicaraguan constitution. He was recognized by the United States, England, France, Italy, Honduras, Salvador, and other nations.

Truce Quickly Broken.

The truce was short lived, however. Nov. 29, 1926, Dr. Sacasa landed at Puerto Cabezas, and in December a new revolution broke out, the Liberals proclaiming Dr. Sacasa constitutional president. On the request of the British and Italian governments as well as by the dictates of its own policy, the United States landed a force of 400 marines at Bluefields in January, 1927, to protect foreign lives and property.

In April, 1927, Col. Henry L. Stimson arrived as personal representative of the President, and in May he was able to bring the two parties together. Both united in asking mediation by the President of the United States. The result was our pledged word, given at Tipitapa, to keep peace, supervise the elections and organize a nonpartisan constabulary officered by Americans. That, in brief, is the history of our operations in Nicaragua since 1912.

Not Backing Either Side.

Have we backed the wrong horse?

We have backed neither side in the struggle between Liberals and Conservatives. Neither side would make such charges against us. We have proceeded along constitutional lines and treated the problem confronting us on its constitutional merits. Had we wished to take sides we might have threatened intervention long before the struggle reached an impasse. We could have established peace by force, but we preferred to do so by persuasion, and we accepted the rôle of mediator with the purpose of assisting the parties to keep the peace they signed at Tipitapa.

BRITISH NAVAL PLAN AROUSES NO U. S. CHEERS

Washington Clings to Geneva Cruiser Proposal.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Unless Great Britain is prepared to sign an agreement limiting cruiser tonnage on a basis acceptable to the American government there is virtually no chance that Washington officials will agree to discuss reductions in battleship tonnages and armament prior to the scheduled 1931 conference of the Washington treaty powers.

The British suggestion, made Saturday at Geneva, that the Washington treaty powers reduce the tonnages of all battleships built in the future to something under 30,000 tons, extend the life of existing battleships from twenty to twenty-six years, and reduce the size of guns on capital ships from the present limit of 16 inches to 13½ inches arouses no enthusiasm in state department or naval circles.

Why the Big Hurry?

Some congressmen look with favor upon the proposal, but in view of the 1931 conference there is little demand for an earlier parley. Inasmuch as the United States will not begin battleship replacement until 1931, state department officials see no reason for discussing the matter beforehand.

Should the British government desire to work out an agreement for the reduction of cruisers and other auxiliary ships along the lines outlined last summer by the American delegation at the Geneva conference, administration officials might be willing to attend an earlier conference. In view of the wide divergence between America and England on cruisers at Geneva, there is little likelihood of an early agreement limiting cruisers and other auxiliary ships.

Naval officials view the English proposals as an attempt to insure continuance of British superiority in capital ships. British batttleships were superior to American capital ships at the time the Washington agreement was signed. The completion last year of the Rodney and Nelson, the latest British capital ships, put the British fleet far ahead of the United States fleet in actual effectiveness.

Better than U. S. Ships.

The Rodney and Nelson are 35,000 ton ships, heavier than any American capital ships. They carry nine 16-inch guns, as compared with eight 16-inch guns on the best American ships. The British vessels have numerous fire control stations and are much better protected.

Information is that the Rodney and Nelson have much thicker armor deck than any other warships afloat. Built since the war, they have thick deck protection to guard against long range high angle fire and aircraft bombs.

Navy officials point out that adoption of the British proposal to extend the life of capital ships and to reduce tonnage would mean a postponement of the date when the United States could build ships equal in gun power, armor, and general effectiveness to the British battleships. As the Rodney and Nelson would be in commission for twenty-six years British superiority in capital ships would be guaranteed for that period.

At both the state and navy departments it was asserted, however, that when the subject of battleship reduction is taken up at Washington this government will insist upon an arrangement giving the United States parity with Great Britain.

DRY RAIDERS FIND LIQUOR IN SIX MOOSE LODGES

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 25.—(AP)—A general visitation of lodge rooms of the Loyal Order of Moose in western Pennsylvania was made yesterday by federal prohibition agents, who said they found liquor in six lodge quarters.

In similar raids in 1926, 73 lodge officers were arrested and subsequently were paroled for two years each after they pleaded no defense to charges of violating the prohibition laws.

Prohibition agents said lodge records seized today would be investigated to determine whether any of the paroles had been violated.

Beatrice Lillie and Son Hold Family Reunion

(Picture on back page.)

Joseph Perez, 32, of 1005 South Halsted street, was shot in both legs early yesterday by Aaron Nelson, 39, colored proprietor of a rooming house at 229 South Halsted street.

DAVISON WILL FLY LINDBERGH ROUTE BACK TO CAPITAL

PANAMA, March 25.—(AP)—F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation, and Maj. Gen. James E. Fechet, chief of the United States army air corps, who arrived at France field yesterday after flying from Washington, plan to return to the United States by plane over Lindbergh's route over the West Indies.

Both the secretary and Gen. Fechet joined in predicting that it was only a question of time before there would be commercial air routes between the United States and the canal.

POPE BITTER IN NEW ATTACK ON CURB OF RIGHTS

Assails Fascisti for Playing Politics.

ROME, March 25.—[U.P.]—Bitter complaint of alleged interference by the Italian government with the rights of the Vatican, even as guaranteed after the separation of church and state in 1870, was made by the pope today in an address to the Rome diocesan committee of laymen.

Particular protest was made by the pope against "the constant monopoly of the education of youth, both moral and spiritual," by the state.

"We have kept silent," he said, "in order not to make the situation worse, but our silence has been misinterpreted."

Referring to a visit of members of the Catholic political party to Premier Mussolini last week, the pope said:

"These Catholics did not find it beneficial to pray at the tomb of St. Peter, nor visit his successor (the pope) as the common father of Christendom. Instead, they met in the capitol."

The pope accused the party of using religion for political ends. The Fascist government, he said, had done much good, but also much harm.

Tyrolese Cheered.

VIENNA, March 25.—(AP)—Mention was made in most of the church services of Austria and newspapers commented freely today on an interview which the pope is reported to have given recently to Cardinal Piffl, and which was brought here by the official Austrian telegraph agency.

In this purported interview, his holiness is said to have expressed sorrow at the failure of his efforts to induce the Mussolini government to modify the Italian régime in the Tyrol. The pontiff, according to the official agency, said he had done his best but was powerless to go farther, and feared that anything he might now attempt to do would make the situation worse instead of improving it.

Throughout Austria there is deep satisfaction that the pope should have spoken on this delicate subject, and also that he should have allowed publication of the interview. Publication, the Austrians say, gives the Tyrolian question a status of internationality which Mussolini has steadfastly denied to it.

THE NEW INDIVIDUAL SHOPS FOR YOUTH NOW OCCUPY OUR ENTIRE SIXTH FLOOR

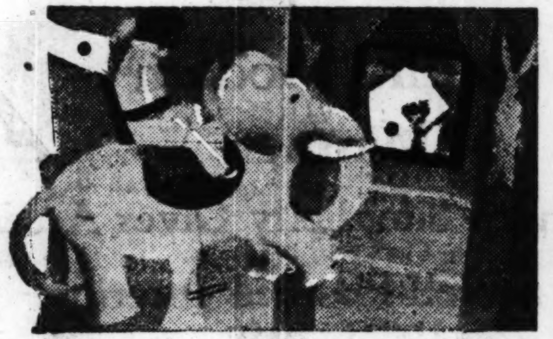
How jolly it all will be! If you are so very young that they still count your birthdays by the month—there's a cheery corner, all pink and white (the Layette Shop), where a smiling registered nurse tells Mother how to dress you most comfortably and becomingly. But if you've attained the glory of your teens—harken! Lasses may here select frocks and other apparel in which are stitched small silk labels telling of the far European country from which they come. "Imports"—the older fashionables call them.

And lads to whom clothes mean only a secret longing for a suit "with a long pair"—may be here outfitted in manly grown-up togs.

If—in short, you're anywhere from a tiny tot to a thrilling Teenager—a member of Chicago's junior generation—now is cause to rejoice. For if clothes don't mean a thing in your young life—at least you'll find plenty to amuse you up on this new Sixth Floor.

MANDEL'S

MANDEL'S SPRING OPENING

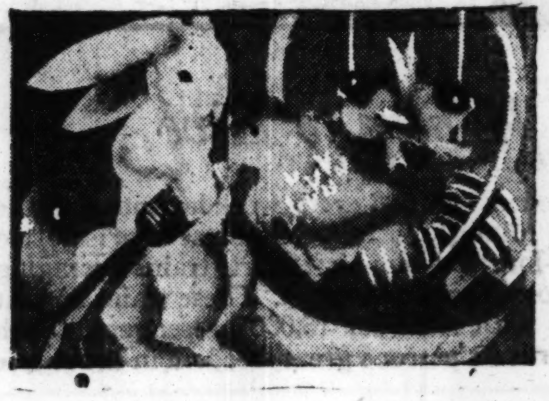


Who doesn't love a puppet show

—such as Mr. Tony Sarg so delightfully designed for our Circus Land Barber Shop? While you are mounted on a make-believe elephant or tiger or other jungle animal, having Barber Bill give you a snippety-snip hair-cut, the puppets move around before your very eyes.

"Please park me in the Playroom, Mumsie"

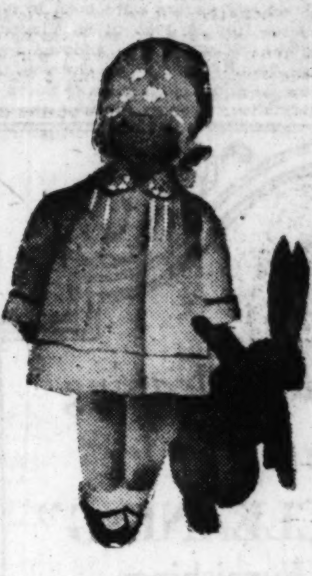
That's surely what most any small child will say when he sees the shiny new slide and other playthings that are there in the new Playroom. And a wee one won't get so "awf'ly tired" as he would if he had to tag all around while Mumsie did all her own shopping.



Easter has already come to Toyland!

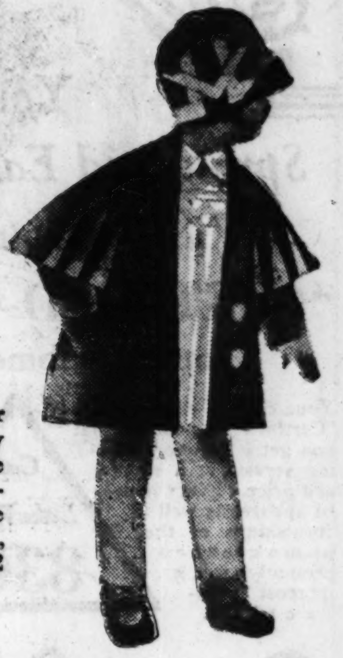
Bunnies and baskets and the yellowest little chicks are all over the place saying "Easter" to all who pass that way. Whatever a young heart could desire (from sleeping dolls with real hair, to rubber tired auto cars) is here in the Toy section adjoining the apparel shops. If you come up in the Wabash Avenue elevators, you'll land—plop—in the Toy section. Don't forget.

A complete outfitting service for young folks of cradle-age to high school years—that's what this new Sixth Floor now offers. And the variety of apparel and accessories obtainable here is suggested by these typical selections.



From Paris—

this diminutive costume for an infant Eve. Every dainty stitch in this delicate crepe de chine set was done by some expert French needlewoman. The coat is $18.75, the dress $8.75, the lovely bonnet $5. 1 and 2 years.



A wee Cape Coat—

as conscious of its chic as grown-up versions. Of navy blue serge lined with red or French blue satin, $18.75. Hand-smocked crepe de chine dress to match coat lining, $8.75.

The navy hat is trimmed in red or blue, $3.95. All three may be had in sizes 4 to 6 years.

WIGGLETOE slippers of patent leather complete this trig costume. Sizes 5½ to 8, $3.50.

Angora adorns—the sleeves of the young maiden's coat in smart imitation of the fur trimmed sleeves of adult models. Latonia is the name of the Spring-weight material of this coat—and apple green is its hue. $39.50. Sizes, 10 to 14.

Hats of Japanese straw—with decorative feather tab and grosgrain band is the pretty poke shape approved for junior sub-debs. $10.

Her capeskin gloves—have fancy turndown cuffs. $2.50.

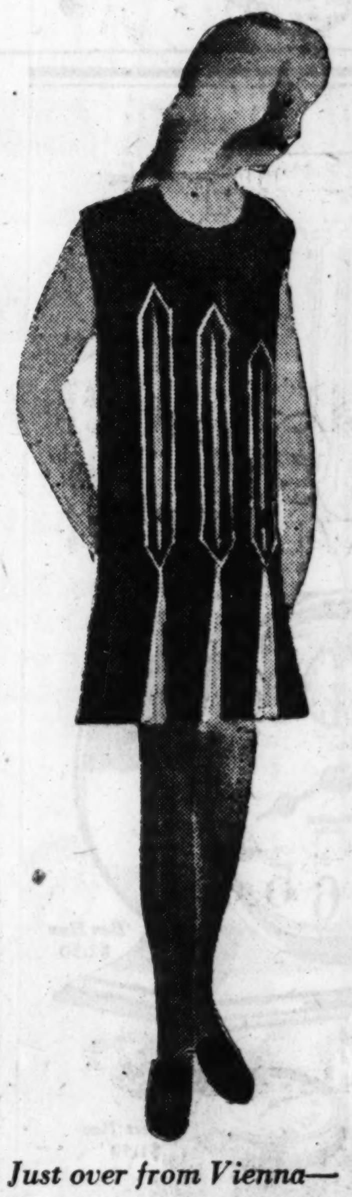
A sporting outfit—

for a manly lad of three to nine is this. Oliver Twist blouse of oxford cloth and smart little shorts of flannel. The blouse is $1.65. The shorts, $3.95.

Two plus-fours—

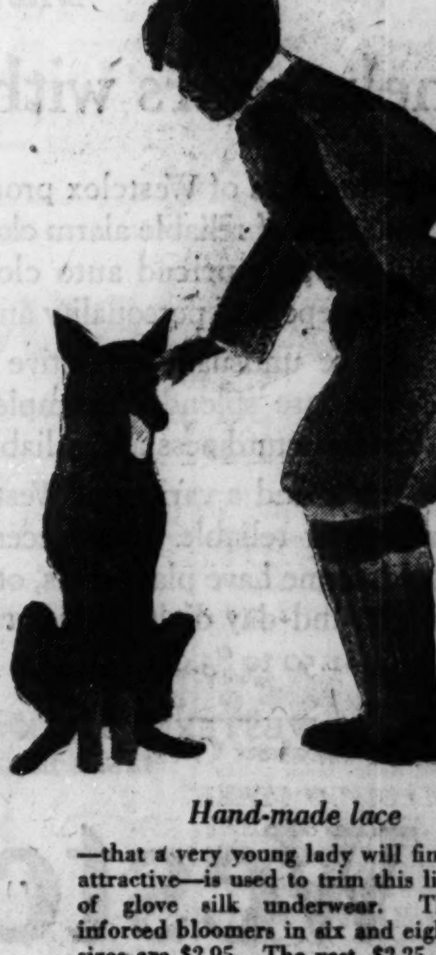
equal Spring suit smartness, especially when they are as well tailored as the pairs in this boy's suit of all wool. He chose a checked pattern in shades of tan—but there are many shades and tweed effects from which to select. Sizes 7 to 15. $25.

Don't you like the fancy cuff socks he is wearing? They match his suit and are only 95c pair.



Just over from Vienna—

not the lass, but the smart little frock she is wearing. Its navy blueness is enlivened by attractive handwork and clever inserts of cherry red. It is but one of a delightful group that we received from abroad—just in time for this Opening. It is $39.50. Other imports, $25 to $39.50. In sizes 8 to 14 years.



Hand-made lace

—that a very young lady will find most attractive—is used to trim this little set of glove silk underwear. The reinforced bloomers in six and eight year sizes are $2.95. The vest, $2.25.

In sizes ten to sixteen years, the bloomers are $3.75; the vest, $2.95.

NEW SENSATION EXPECTED TO END TEAPOT OIL QUIZ

Senators Study Reports Before Storm Breaks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 25.—[Special.]—Something akin to the lull which usually has preceded the springing of a new sensation in the Teapot Dome oil scandal inquiry was sensed tonight in the announcement that the senate's investigating committee will hold no further public hearings until the reports of special agents have been analyzed.

Senator Nye [Rep., N. D.], chairman of the committee, refused to disclose any details of the reports in his hands, but said that the investigation is nearing an end and that when it comes the end will be a surprise.

One of the reports covers the search made in Sullivan, Ind., the home town of Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican national committee, for another block of Harry F. Sinclair's Continental Trading company Liberty bonds.

Lift Campaign Debt.

Hays has admitted that he accepted $260,000 of the Continental company's bonds from Sinclair to help the Republican national committee lift its 1920 presidential campaign deficit. These bonds have been identified as part of the same fund on which Sinclair drew to pay Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, $233,000 after Sinclair's Mammoth Oil company was given a lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Other agents have been assigned to secretly check the bank accounts of the late Fred W. Upham in Chicago and another has spent the last week in New York on a mysterious mission known only to Senator Nye. Upham, as treasurer of the Republican national committee, handled $60,000 of the Continental company's bonds sent to him by Hays, and permission to examine his bank records, and her own as well, was given the committee by his widow, Mrs. Helen Hall Upham.

Fall Lifts Lid Thursday.

While the committee sifts the reports of its agents, interest in the oil scandals will shift to El Paso, Tex., where, next Thursday afternoon, Fall is scheduled to tell his story of the Teapot Dome lease in the presence of special government prosecutors and counsel for Sinclair, who will go to trial for conspiracy on April 4.

Defense lawyers and government attorneys, who are privileged under a court order to cross-examine the former cabinet member, will leave Washington tomorrow. Because of Fall's illness, the indictment against him and Sinclair was severed by Justice Jennings Bailey, who postponed Fall's trial indefinitely and set Sinclair's for April 4.

An interesting sidelight on the whole scandal is the disclosure that the bureau of mines recently completed a study of Teapot Dome to determine how much oil it contains.

The result of that survey is a closely guarded secret and officials of the bureau intimate it will remain so until the trial of Sinclair is concluded and perhaps longer. It is believed, however, that the survey confirms reports that the dome contains only a fractional part of the oil Sinclair thought it held when he dealt at such great ultimate cost with Fall.

FINDS ANOTHER SET OF TWINS REARED APART

Dr. Horatio H. Newman, professor of zoölogy at the University of Chicago, has discovered a second pair of twins who, like the twin Canadian girls his department has been studying, were reared apart. The girls are Eleanor and Georgiana Kelly of South Bend, Ind., neither of whom was aware of the other's existence until they were twenty-one years old.

The Kelly sisters were born in New York on July 23, 1901, at St. Vincent's hospital. Eleanor was adopted by a South Bend family when she was two years old and Georgiana was taken by a Bay City, Mich., couple at the age of eighteen months. A Felician nun of the Felician academy at Detroit, whose pupil Georgiana had been, saw Eleanor while on a visit to St. Mary's academy at South Bend and was struck by the resemblance. Subsequent investigation revealed the relationship.

Dr. Newman, who has studied fifty pairs of twins reared together, is eager to find another pair of identical twins reared apart, because of the valuable evidence such cases offer as to the effect of environment on mentality.

COP SHOOTS AT COP AS DISPUTE LEADS TO BLOWS

An argument between Detectives Louis Capparelli and Ed McNally, members of Sergt. Edward Harder's squad, led to blows yesterday afternoon and ended when Capparelli fired one shot at his partner. The bullet narrowly missed McNally's head and flattened out against a building across the street from the detective bureau, where the fight started.

Capparelli was disarmed by a half dozen other policemen standing on the sidewalk nearby. Reports were made on the affair to Chief of Detectives Michael Grady and it was stated that the outburst on the part of the two men may lead to their suspension.

BREAK WINDOW; SEIZE DRESSES.

Three men riding in an automobile yesterday drew up in front of an apparel shop at 129 South Franklin street, where they smashed the front window and gathered up dresses worth $300. They escaped.

In the Modern Manner

Their Sharp Simplicity Gives Accent
To a Well-Planned Interior

IRON standards with geometric pieces of metal, bronze-plated and polished to a dull glow, carry out the modern note which is repeated again in the silk shade—done in planes of different tones. Yet these lamps have an entirely new and different character from the commonly accepted so-termed modernistic lamps—an interest only understood when the lamps are actually seen lighted, casting their lilting shadows about the room.

Where to Live

At 5 minutes before 8 every weekday morning the route of the Illinois Central suburban service is dotted with thirty-four fast-moving electric trains averaging but little more than a mile apart. These trains consist of 190 cars with seats for 16,000 passengers. Such service affords its patrons great freedom in the choice of homes.

In the days when most city men had to live within walking distance of their work, the choice of a home was more limited. Now, when efficient suburban service measures distance in minutes instead of miles, the homeseeker's choice is almost unlimited.

Every type of residence is available in the 168 square miles from which the Illinois Central electric service draws its patronage. The merits of that service are becoming increasingly well known — speed, safety, comfort, convenience, courtesy and economy.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

POINCARE ASKS GERMAN ENTENTE TO HEAL WOUNDS

Opens Electoral Fight for New Parliament.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 25.—Proposing an entente with Germany, Premier Raymond Poincare fired the opening gun of the government's electoral campaign today at Bordeaux. He outlined the cabinet's future program if the voters give him a majority in parliament.

M. Poincare cited Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, the American Vice President, to prove that the occupation of the Ruhr forced Germany to accept the Dawes reparations plan. He defended the seizure of the region with the statement, "We obtained three hundred sixty million marks [about $90,000,000] for Belgium and a billion and a half francs [about $58,500,000] for ourselves. Unaided we reconstructed the war devastated regions."

Warns Against Communism.

The premier rejected all ideas of a dictatorship.

"We never seek progress through silencing national representation and stifling public liberties," he said. He warned against communist activities.

"Soviet propaganda can never take root among our people, who need not seek lessons in progress from the orient, and who already share by the millions in the soil of the country," M. Poincare said. "We will not permit a handful of pretended reformers to offer France a model not terrestrial. This disease is but a purgatory where misery and chomage rule, where apparent calm is the tranquillity of prison, or exile."

Appeals for Entente with Germans.

Turning to foreign affairs, the premier denounced those accusing France of militarism and imperialism. The premier then made his first public appeal for an entente with Germany.

"Every one in France realizes that in all Europe, victors, vanquished and neutrals alike, there is the same need for calm, and the repairing of the war ruins," he said. "There is no one in France who does not realize that the country was so cruelly hurt it never will recover from its wounds except through the progressive establishment of an economic, moral and intellectual entente. No one in France is indisposed to aid such a rapprochement. We hope this sentiment is shared by other nations. Let us work with fervent souls, but eyes open for future peace, the hope for which the best of us gave our lives."

DRINK REFUSED; GUEST STABS THREE.

Emery Hughes, 27, of 2613 Armitage avenue, stabbed Robert Lemke, 36, of 3418 Dickens avenue, yesterday when the latter refused a drink. Hughes then stabbed Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kobos, his hosts at 2039 South California avenue, when they ordered him to leave. Hughes was arrested.

SETTLE QUARREL WITH PISTOL IN STREET; 1 DEAD

Robert Mcomb, 1025 West Madison street, brother of Walter McComb, well known west side bootlegger, was shot in the abdomen and fatally wounded yesterday afternoon by Max Rosenberg, a bootlegger who lives next door to McComb at 1023 West Madison street. The shooting was done in the street in front of the two men's homes. Rosenberg escaped and McComb was taken to the county hospital, where he died a few hours later.

Police said they obtained two different stories concerning the shooting. One was that McComb had stabbed Rosenberg a month ago and that Rosenberg yesterday had evened up the score. The other story was that the two men were partners in botlegging deals and that the shooting resulted from a quarrel about alcohol.

DIES AFTER VISIT TO GRAVE.

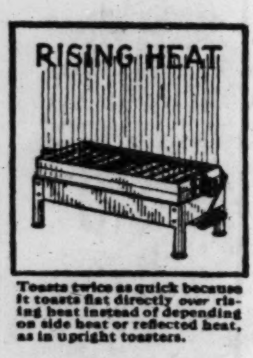
Flat toasting does 5 things that you can't expect of upright toasters

Flat Toasting is winning the world so fast that authorities would not be surprised to see other methods dropped. No one tries to bake a cake on edge, or cook the meal at a similar angle. Then why make toast that way—a way that limits you to toasting only bread?

So many women expressed these sentiments that we laid the problem before Sunbeam engineers. It was they who designed the 30-Year Sunbeam Iron, and we believed they could revolutionize electric toasting too.

- 1—Toasts two Sandwiches at once with the filling right in them.
- 2—Makes Toast of any thickness from "Melba" thin to Halved Rolls and Gems.
- 3—Toasts Cheese, Sardines, Cinnamon, etc., right on the Toast.
- 4—Toasts two large slices of bread at once, and twice as quick, using half the current, because the bread is directly over rising heat, not beside it.
- 5—Toasts at a speed that makes toast crisp and tender—never dried-out hard.



Toasts twice as quick because it toasts flat directly over rising heat instead of depending on side heat or reflected heat, as in upright toasters.

Toasts Any Thickness—Toasts Twice as Quick

The result is a Toaster that is fast gaining widespread popularity. A Toaster that toasts twice as quickly as upright toasters, because the food lies flat—directly over the rising heat. A Toaster with a turn-over rack that opens wide to admit food of any thickness from crackers and thin "Melba" toast, to Sandwiches, Halved Rolls and Coffee Cake.

Crisp, Golden Toast with Tender Center

No method ever made more delicious toast and sandwiches. For by toasting twice as quick, it thus crisps the surface to a golden brown and leaves the center tender.

Non-Breakable Plug —No Extra Cost

This new Sunbeam Plug with On and-Off Switch sells by itself for $1.50. To all those who choose the Sunbeam Flat Toaster we include a fine cord and this new Non-Breakable Plug without extra cost.

No matter what toaster someone may want to sell you, insist at least on being shown the Sunbeam. You can see for yourself why Flat Toasting will soon reign supreme. And you want to be among the first to adopt it.

Your dealer or Public Service Company will welcome your comparison. If his Sunbeams have all been taken, leave your order, or write to us.

MEXICO TO GIVE ALL BIG CITIES AIR MAIL SERVICE

Planes Also Will Carry Parcels; Rates Low.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, March 25.—The Mexican government today announced the opening of an extensive aerial postal service to the principal cities of Mexico early next month. The rates are to be more reasonable than was expected, as it was believed the difficult nature of the Mexican territory would require higher rates than those obtaining in the United States and other countries.

In issuing the decree fixing the air mail rates, President Calles announced an additional rate of 2 centavos (about 1 cent) added to the former postal rate of 8 centavos (about 4 cents) within Mexico and to all countries within the postal union, which would be taken off as soon as he aerial postal service showed it could support itself.

The President said he had full confidence that the service would become self-supporting owing to the great necessity for the rapid dispatch of mail.

The Mexican airplanes will carry not only letters, but freight of all kinds, up to a certain limit. Letters and postcards up to 20 grams (16-25ths of a pound) will be carried to all parts of Mexico for 25 centavos (about 12½ cents) and there will be the same rate for each additional 20 grams.

The rate for second class will be 1 peso (about 50 cents) per kilogram (2.2 pounds); third class, 1 peso 50 centavos (about 75 cents) per kilo; fourth class, 75 centavos (about 37½ cents) per kilo, and fifth class, 1 peso 50 centavos per kilo.

In addition to the rates above given, the Mexican aerial postal service will charge for service to foreign countries the additional aerial postal service charged by each country through which the Mexican mail passes in reaching its destination.

"Half a dozen American and other aerial companies are watching the initial Mexican air mail service," said one of the chief promoters. "If it proves successful there will be money necessary for the extension of postal and other air services to every outlying district in Mexico."

New Haven, Conn., March 25.—(AP)—In the annual class poll conducted by the Yale Daily News the seniors of the college and the Sheffield Scientific schools revealed that they believe Charles A. Lindbergh to be a greater figure than Mussolini or any other.

By a vote of 143 to 114 they believe prohibition has harmed college life.

Now folks say 'WALGREENS' instead of Drug Store

Take an average circle of Chicago people today . . . speak of a drug store and 9 out of 10 automatically will be using the term "Walgreen."

In the minds of 9 out of 10, Walgreen stores subconsciously express all that is desirable for drug store and associate needs.

They like the big, well lighted sales rooms; they have learned of the almost endless variety of merchandise; they enjoy the leisurely shopping amid pleasant surroundings; the attentive, intelligent service when they want it . . . they relax in a feeling of comfort and convenience that a Walgreen store is always nearby——

But above all else, Walgreen shoppers know they are getting full value from every penny expended; that the goods they buy are exactly as represented or proper adjustment will be made; that because of the great Walgreen purchasing power they are getting quality at the greatest savings . . . two cents here . . . a nickel there . . . always at a low price consistent with high quality. They appreciate the utter dependability of Walgreen prescriptions and the fastidious quality of Walgreen fountain products.

Yes, both careful and careless shoppers have learned there is economy, safety and satisfaction in purchasing any Walgreen product.

"Truly," they think, "here is an institution built for its customers."

Is it any wonder that folks say "Walgreen's" instead of drug store?

Miss Rethberg Put on Elmer's Highest Throne

He Thrills as She Sings Old Folk Songs.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Elizabeth Rethberg, soprano, thrilled the aerial highways locally, through W-G-N, in the 8:15-9:15 concert last evening, and though other details may be forgotten, one thought remains—that in Miss Rethberg we have a queen of the vocal tone beautiful.

Other great singers surpass in certain qualities, but for flawless, smooth, and mellow tones Miss Rethberg, I am quite sure, from a radio standpoint, is in a field quite alone.

In her "Der Freichutz" aria there were three rather long holds; one was taken smooth, one vibrant, one with a dazzling trill, and one was given a richly colored effect.

Her old English songs were sung as sweetly and with a true plaintive note though another singer might have given greater attention to the enunciation. The bigness of her mentality (and this is seemingly perceptible over the air) was shown in Schubert's "The Linden Tree," this song perhaps showing her art in the highest form. The aria, "Return Victorious," from "Aida," contained jewels of dramatically colored, opulent tones and suppressed tragic emotion—an aria typical of the kind that makes opera audiences realize it is living in memorable moments.

If the voice of Ben De Loache Jr., baritone, assisting on this program, was not of universal liking, at least his enunciation is in his favor.

The 9:15 to 10 Music Room program, devoted to Glinka and Arensky, could not have been as popular as some in the series, but it was important. It is well to know something about Glinka, for when he started the Russian composers on the road to national artistic expression he started something.

As an afternoon feature the Arabian Nights entertainment, 4:30 to 6, is somewhat different from the regular run of programs, and it fits in nicely.

SEIZE 28 IN GAMBLING RAID.

Twenty-eight men were arested yesterday in an alleged gambling resort at 3838 Ogden avenue. James Fields was charged with being keeper and the others as inmates. The raiding squad from the detective bureau was commanded by Lieut. Martin McCormick.

Edward Moore Writes of Music and the Musicians

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius, Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The beautiful French woman of the restaurant comes to see Dr. Sartorius and Esther learns that she is Lady Clifford. A few days later her husband, Sir Charles Clifford, is stricken with typhoid fever and Dr. Sartorius gives up his practice and laboratory work to devote himself exclusively to Sir Charles. Esther is taken on the case as day nurse.

Roger Clifford, Sir Charles' only son, arrives in Cannes. Sir Charles tells his son that he has changed his will, to the extent of making him executor and trustee of the whole estate. Roger is attracted to Esther and invites her to dine and dance with him. They go to one of the fashionable restaurants in Cannes.

On returning to the house Roger comes upon his stepmother in the darkened drawing room with Arthur Holliday, who has been paying Lady Clifford some attention. Roger orders Holliday to leave the house.

The next day Sir Charles breaks the news to his wife that he has named his son trustee of his estate in his will. Lady Clifford flies into a rage.

Shortly afterwards Roger complains of a headache and his aunt, Miss Clifford, offers him one of her remedies. In trying to open the bottle, Roger breaks it and cuts his hand. Esther is called in to bind up the cut and, in her haste, she mislays the doctor's hypodermic needle, which he has just used on Sir Charles. The doctor is unwarrantably angry with her over this carelessness. Two days later Sir Charles dies. Esther finds the needle, but instead of returning it to the doctor, she has it analyzed. Lady Clifford dismisses her, but before she leaves she gets the report from the chemist that the hypodermic needle contained typhoid germs. As she is about to warn Roger she is drugged and taken from the house unconscious. Some time later she awakens to find herself in an alcove of Dr. Sartorius' laboratory.

INSTALLMENT I.

PROVIDENCE INTERVENES.

Clutching on the back of a chair for support Esther eyed the sloping glass above her and made certain rough calculations. If she mounted upon a chair placed on the table she might fairly easily unfasten the big central group of panes, which was the part that opened outward.

Standing upon the chair she began with shaking fingers and as hurriedly as she could to undo the rusted curtain hooks from their big wooden rings. She had managed only the first one when a sound from the street below made her stop and listen, petrified. A car had stopped. Like a flash she was down again on the floor and in one panic stricken movement had slithered back on the camp bed and drawn up the army blanket over her, as it had been when she came to. As far as she could remember it she arranged herself in her former position, half turned towards the wall on her right side.

"Two!" gasped the young man in a whisper.

She waited and waited. At last, when she thought she could bear no longer, the footsteps of two persons mounted the steps to the laboratory. She heard a key ground in the lock of the door.

Heavy steps at once crossed the floor and paused beside her. She heard heavy breathing as he bent over her, she smelled the tobacco odor of his clothes and felt her cheek burn as though seared beneath his scrutiny.

Presently he spoke, in her ear, it seemed.

"I suppose you gave her the injection at the time I told you to?"

"O, yes, I gave it to her all right!"

Esther experienced a sharp shock. The second voice was that of Capt. Holliday. How on earth did he come into this? Or had he been in it from the start?

Suddenly, without the least warning, she felt a cruel pinch on her shoulder. The doctor, to satisfy himself, had resorted to this crude but effectual method of finding out if she were quite unconscious or not. At least it might easily have proved effectual, only Providence intervened. She never knew how it was she did not shriek aloud, but instead managed to remain perfectly quiescent, unresisting. A second later she had her reward. She heard the huge man move away, his step creaking across the bare boards and into the main room. She breathed again, and listened.

For about two minutes there was silence, then Holliday spoke, bursting out with a sort of defiance that had terror in it, she thought.

"See here, Sartorius, I'm going to clear out. I've had enough. I didn't know what I was letting myself in for the other day, or I wouldn't have helped you out."

"You'll stay here."

"The hell I shall! Who'll keep me if I want to go?"

"You appear to have got the idea that you are sacrificing yourself for me. That is not quite true. By doing as I tell you and remaining here you are saving yourself."

"How do you make that out?"

"It is perfectly simple. You realize of course that that woman in there is the only person who has the knowledge necessary to bring a charge, no one else has even a slight suspicion. Therefore it is hardly worth while to emphasize the reasons for keeping watch over her closely until such time as I am able to dispose of her satisfactorily. These things take time and thought. One can't rush into them without running risks."

"I suppose one has to admit all that, but why in hell's name have I got to be her jailer? If she's unconscious, why can't she be left alone?"

"Simply because I refuse to take the risk. There is no knowing what might happen; one can't be sure of anything."

There followed the scratch of a match and the smell of cigaret smoke. Then, as if reading his friend's thoughts, Sartorius continued.

"And in case you have any secret intention of giving me the slip, just bear this in mind: If the detention of this girl ever comes out, the fat will be in the fire, for you just as much as for me. Dead or alive, it will make no difference, you are bound to be implicated."

"But is it essential to get rid of the girl entirely?" Holliday asked in a whiny fashion. "Isn't there any other means of keeping her quiet?"

"O, yes, but nothing that can really be depended on. I could, of course, by means of a simple operation, destroy certain areas in the brain which would deprive her of memory and speech, but these faculties sometimes have a curious tendency to restore themselves or to delegate their functions to other areas. No, there is only one safe plan, and even that wants thinking out. There must be no trace left."

"God!" exploded Holliday weakly, yet with a kind of loathing. "Why don't I go straight to the police and give the whole show away? I've half a mind to."

"If you did go to the police you would deprive yourself of a large fortune. By sitting tight and saying nothing you will quite soon be able to marry Lady Clifford. In the circumstances you will hardly persist in attaching a purely fictitious value to two insignificant lives."

"Two!" gasped the younger man in a whisper. "Then you really mean to go on with Clifford?"

"I have no choice in the matter; it has become imperative to remove him. Since his father appointed him trustee of the estate, Lady Clifford is powerless to draw any large sums of money without his knowledge and consent. Consequently she would not be able to remunerate me for my services to her with regard to her husband."

"You mean it would rouse his suspicions if she kept paying out money to you?"

"Exactly. Of course to take on more than one case was more than I bargained for, but the thing was practically forced on me. It was Lady Clifford herself who began it without consulting me. She had kept back some of the typhoid culture, having sworn to me that she had thrown it all away. She started putting it into his bottled mineral water—she would keep the water a day or two in her own dressing room, then carry it into his room and exchange it for the bottle that was there already. A fool's trick—at any moment she might have been caught at it. However, there you are, she took the risk, then came to me and told me what she had done and why."

"I see. Then you only have to leave Clifford alone and let the disease take its course, I suppose?"

"Not at all. Typhoid artificially given seldom is severe enough to kill, particularly in the case of a young and vigorous subject. No, we should have to find some excuse for administering the pure toxin. It would do the trick at once, and without the least fear of detection. However, that is my difficulty, the man refuses utterly to submit to any sort of injection. Idiotic prejudice."

Esther's heart gave a leap. Roger was still safe, he had not given in.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

They called him "Burning Daylight" because each morning they would hear his manly voice yodeling: "Get up! Daylight's burning."

The story is Jack London's. It starts in Alaska with Milton Sills being a he-man, and it ends in Frisco with him still one unbeatable male, who has nevertheless had his fill of crooked folks and bamboozling city ways, and is going right back where he started from, with his blonde stenog, who used to sing in an Alaska dance hall—AND THAT WAS ALL!—to the place where folks don't stroke the cat with one hand and pull its tail with the other.

"Burning Daylight" is a big man, physically, and, it develops, mentally and financially. They may fool him, but when a fooler fails to come across eventually there's a new face in heaven.

Mrs. Sills (Doris Kenyon) is charming as the true and loving blonde, whose only cry is a dulcet "I want to be where you are." Jane Winton is a bit tame as the vamping lure with designs on the dough. The supporting cast is an able one, and the snow scenes—as well as some others that I seem to have seen before—are realistic.

If you are a Sills addict you will undoubtedly say of this "Burning Daylight": "Ah, there IS a man!"

They Will Assure You This Is Terribly Funny

"SHE'S MY BABY."
Produced by Sterling Pictures.
Directed by Fred Windermere.
Presented at the Rialto theater.

THE CAST.

Bobby Horton	Robert Agnew
Bernice Wilbur	Kathleen Myers
John Wilbur	Earle Williams
Mary Wilbur	Grace Carlyle
Claire Daltour	Mildred Harris
Alphonze Dabreau	Alphonse Martel
Henry Conrad	Max Asher
Chuck Callahan	William Irving

The press sheet declares that "swift, rushing laughter" greets the sallies of "She's My Baby." Maybe, though I didn't experience any such swift rushes. But I will say that I was not too much bored with the piece, which was made before the death of Earle Williams, who is a featured player.

The action circles about the affairs of a man and woman, who, rather fed up with their twenty years of matrimony, decide to take a few steps out—separate from each other and together with somebody else [Terrible English you use, Miss Tinée!]

They are reunited by the machinations of a flapper daughter and her young man. He, by the way, had quite recently called HIS "baby" the lady of the theater whom Father has contemplated playing about with.

Events move fast and in the main, unbelievably—but who cares—and the end is a sort of double-chocolate-with-whipped-cream-malted-milk one. Wurry gooey.

The story which, you have gathered, is not unusual, still suffices to keep you moderately interested. The acting is okay and so, I guess, are photography and direction.

See you tomorrow!

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Walter L. Nauman, 4334 North Lincoln street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you think winter is over?

The Answers.

Walter Stelachowski, 3007 South Tripp avenue, errand boy.—Sure it is. I don't like to have anything to do with cold weather. I don't like it, but my work takes me out in it. We have worn overcoats and warm clothing long enough. I'm anxious for it to warm up so we can go swimming.

Mrs. C. W. Slickert, 1244 Norwood street, housewife.—I think so, I hope so. Winter is all right and it isn't all right; we couldn't well do without it, yet we would be glad to do without it. I am thinking of our little daughter; unquestionably the winter season is healthy for children. Still it's nicer when they can get out in the summer sunshine.

Gerald Egan, 1355 Granville avenue, student.—No, because I like skating, snowball fights, and sleigh riding. When spring comes all those things melt away. When spring comes we can play baseball; when summer comes we can swim; when fall comes we can play football. So there is something we can do that we like to do all the year around.

Mrs. Harold Flusher, 4406 Greenwood avenue, housewife.—I don't know; I hope it is. The most of us, I imagine, will be glad when we can get rid of our heavy winter clothes. Winter is too cold and dreary. Spring is beautiful; and there is Easter, with all the beautiful clothes, everything beginning to bloom, everything looking so rosy and cheery.

Robert F. Grim, 230 South La Salle street, securities.—No. Perhaps it is a good scheme to emulate the weather man; assert that it will be cold, with a blizzard on the way, then it will turn out warm and as quiet as the lull following a June day shower.

Women Have Their Day at the Piano and It Proves Enjoyable

BY HAZEL MOORE.

It was woman's day in the pianistic field of the Fine Arts building yesterday, with Elly Ney, Chicago's latest feminist acquisition to the keyboard colony, making her first recital appearance of the year at the Studebaker theater, while Georgia Kober and Sturkow Ryder, who need no introduction hereabouts, were joining forces in a two-piano recital next door at the Playhouse. Nor do likenesses end here, for each of these three is a forceful exponent of the piano.

Elly Ney undeniably has a way with Beethoven. If this way involved a terrific speed and a spraying of misplaced notes in the Rondo a Capriccio, described as a rage over the lost penny, yet it added, too, numerous sparks from the high voltage of her own electric personality. The perennial and everlasting "Moonlight" sonata showed what this fine artist can really do with Beethoven, that is to play it with the loveliest of tones, and with sincerity and simplicity. This was beautiful playing fully appreciated by a sizable audience.

The two vivid blonde pianists at the Playhouse were disclosing a program almost new to Chicago, and as is the way with novelties, some were better than others. The first number, "Night and Day," by one Converse, may never be heard again. The second number, also new, was a set of variations, and inevitably a fugue on the equally inevitable Volga Boat song, here listed as a Russian folk song, the present arrangement by Knorr. This proved an enjoyable and ingenious performance, both in the combined way of the two pianists and in the manner of the composer's arrangement.

Sturkow Ryder was also represented as a composer, in three pieces, two of which were dedicated to her partner of the day, Miss Kober. These and a later novelty called "Harp of Life," by Henry Cowell, could not be heard, but judging from the cordial warmth with which the earlier novelties were received, both the players and the composers pleased.

The civic orchestra of Chicago, for the development of symphony players, gave one of its periodic concerts at Orchestra hall, Eric De Lamarter conducting. Heard in a performance of the Goldmark overture to "Sakuntala," they proved that symphony players are indeed being developed.

MR. DOWLING'S dido belongs to the Tammany Hall, the Cherry Hill, or the Al Smith-for-President school of drama: you place the label accordingly as you're able to look backward through the development of what is known as Native Art. It is a nephew (or a niece) of the plays which were regarded as of high importance in the days of Harrigan and Hart. It is trustful, naïve, friendly, casual, easy-going, and of a vast (and not unwise) simplicity—or it may be that I mean simpleness. Its color-motif is emerald-green; its emblem is the shamrock; and there isn't even a mock-orange among the "props." And, in these and other respects, it is like Mr. Dowling's earlier contribution, "Sally, Irene, and Mary."

There is an answer to the foregoing observations: "Honeymoon Lane" was popular and prosperous through virtually a year in New-York.

In this one, Mr. Dowling is again having trouble with his girl, Miss Perkins, who prefers the stage to matrimony. He works in a pickle-factory: this is mentioned because I do not recall that a pickle-factory has ever before been made into drama. Well, she goes to New-York, where the theaters are; and he shakes his big heart out with sobbing as he glares at that old devil Sex: not that he seems to be aware of what he is glaring at; but that's it. So, he follows on to New-York, finds her up to her knees in Sex and still wading toward the horizon, what with undressing at rehearsal, parties in the pickle-magnate's hotel-rooms, specialties by jazz-singers and cuticle-dancers, and all that sort of thing. She is made understudy to Miss O'Denishawn, "opens," is fired, and is taken back by Mr. Dowling to the home-town. [Song-cue: "A Little White House at the End of Honeymoon Lane."]

There are tinkling, pleasant little tunes, the best of which is called "Mary Dear, I Miss You Most of All"; and there are dances by numerous persons, including Miss O'Denishawn and Miss Seaman; and the show-girls are good in the vision; and the settings are changed frequently. Yes: and Mr. Dowling, at intervals, talks at length about the gaucheries of his mother,—meaning, I assume, the mother of the character he is performing. Miss Morton and Mr. Dooley give a comic specialty; and Miss Morton, later, does some dancing unlike what one sees much of nowadays, and quite stimulating, too. And so on, and so on. . . . As has been said, the show was popular and prosperous a long, long time in New-York.

News-Notes of the Stage.

"The Great Necker," a farce that has been a riot in Southern California and is now on view in New-York, is to be put into the Harris two weeks from tonight—meaning, among other things, that Miss Mary Boland's new conveyance, "Don't Count Your Chickens!" is in need of garage-treatment: it had been booked for April 8.

The Messrs. Shubert are taking over the remaining interest of Mr. Cohan in the Four Cohans, in the operation of which they have been his partners since late in 1926. . . . It is understood that the present name of the theater will be retained for a time, and then changed to the Grand Opera-House—or, perhaps, the Shubert Grand.

The most recent title for the piece about baseball written jointly by Mr. Cohan and Ring Lardner is either "Al" or "You Know Me, Al!": late information in the matter involves both. Then, last week, I had the best kind of assurance that the title would be "Fast Company." F. D.

Heifetz Plays Brilliantly but Leaves a Void

Notes Appear of Greater Import Than Music.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Jascha Heifetz seems not to have changed a hair's breadth in the three years since last he played here. Appearing at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon, he was still the world marvel in the amount of brilliant display that can be called out of four strings and a bow, a marvel again in the twenty-four carat tone that never fails to arise when he is in action, and there never was a violinist more disdainful in the ease with which he tosses up a handful of glittering notes to explode all over the place. And after all these are over you feel a little bit disappointed with the exhibition.

A message from his publicity department received too late to include in his advance notice desired to assure the world that Mr. Heifetz never high hats his audience. There are times, however, when one suspects him of high hatting his music, not always, but occasionally. When he is at his best, as in the final movement of Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole," he makes out an ideal case for the violin as a solo instrument, but at another time he sounds as though he were so preoccupied with technical considerations as to be indifferent to other and more important musical values.

Anton Rovinsky, the pianist, began his recital on the subject of Bach, the modernist, in the best of form at the Goodman. The title would seem to indicate Rovinsky's belief that Bach has influenced the whole musical world since his time. Anyway, he made out a plausible case. As a prelude he played a prelude and fugue by Buxtehude, pleasant, but mainly valuable in showing how much greater Bach was than his predecessors.

Then came some Bach, the Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue and a Partita, followed by pieces by Brahms, Couperin, and Ravel. Then more Bach, Busoni's transcription of the Chaconne, and finally a group of Liszt, C. P. E. Bach, the son, Franck, Satie, Debussy, and Stravinsky, not the Stravinsky consciously imitating Bach, but Mr. Rovinsky's transcription of part of the "Firebird." This was a piano program with imagination, and Rovinsky was the one person to conceive and play it.

Alexander A. Shere, basso, appeared at Kimball hall in a recital program proving that he had an uncommon voice and has devoted much time and sympathy to the study of lieder. He was assisted by Dorothy Bell, harpist.

Bertha Ochsner appeared in the evening in a dance program at the Goodman. Having been a student of the dance in many of its guises, Miss Ochsner had constructed her own program, a blend of dance, pantomime and posture, at time to the excellent piano accompaniment of Mark Wessel, at others coincidentally with the reading of Gertrude E. Johnson.

She is graceful of body and she has technic, also the stage sense that can make use of striking gestures, both angular and curved. It was an error to make use of storied dance before a dark auditorium where programs were useless, since in that case the meaning was lost, but in what may be called the absolute dance, such as the Beethoven Contre-Tanz and two waltzes by Brahms, she created a definite and pleasing effect.

Stolen Sweets.

I eat lunch in the cafeteria in the building, and today after enjoying the customary sandwich and coffee, I took my fork and began devouring the piece of pumpkin pie that was on the table near my coffee.

And then—O, heavens! what had I done? I realized too late that I did not take any pie as I resolved today to do without dessert in order to save a little money. I suddenly felt—er—torrid and most uncomfortable, and asked the gentleman whose pie I had so absent mindedly started to consume, to please let me pay for it. He stoutly refused and told me to go ahead and finish the pie and enjoy it. Well, I finished it, but, believe me, I did not enjoy it. A. C. L.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Last week's warm, sunny weather put many flower growers out into their gardens. Yesterday seed catalogues were thumbed from front to back by the progressive gardeners who are always looking for something new or for some kind or variety of flower they have not grown.

Flowers that will withstand the hot dry spell of summer are always in demand among growers who like to have something blooming every day from early spring until late in the fall. With so much sandy soil to deal with in the Chicago area many gardeners have trouble with their annuals shriveling up in July and August.

Three annuals considered by the national garden bureau specialists to be excellent survivors of hot days are the California poppies, eschscholtzias, as they are known botanically; the Star of the Veldt, known as dimorphoteca, and the old-fashioned rose moss or portulaca.

The California poppy gives a great variety of color and is classed as one of the best heat resisters. These experts know it as a short lived perennial, but the California poppy blooms as an annual.

The South African daisy comes in a variety of shades. It thrives in hot weather in this section. Plant it where the flower is to bloom and do not take a chance by transplanting it.

Rose moss makes a beautiful edging flower and is at its best when the weather gets dry and hot.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

An Invalid at 20.

"I am 20 years of age and an invalid. I am interested in needlework and would like to obtain some books or magazines about it. Do you think any of your readers would have some to give? H. R."

When one is confined to the house time hangs heavy for hands that are idle. If this invalid had sufficient literature on the needlework in which she's so interested, she'd be much happier.

Dobbs Ferry Alumnae Have Their Annual Luncheon Next Friday

BY THALIA ——.

The Dobbs Ferry Alumnae association, which includes in its membership many prominent Chicago women, is to hold its annual luncheon on Friday at the residence of Mrs. Henry A. Rumsey in Lake Forest. The girls who are in school now are arriving on Thursday for their Easter vacation, and the luncheon has been set in order that they may attend, and give the "old girls" some idea of what's going on. Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy Jr. [Marion Warner] is president of the association, Mrs. Scott Bromwell [Mari Smith] is treasurer, and since Mrs. Porter Cummings, the secretary, is away, Miss Katherine Trowbridge is discharge her duties for her.

The Chicago girls now at Dobbs include Margaret McLennan, daughter of the Donald R. McLennans; Catherine Carton, the Alfred T. Cartons' daughter; Virginia Waller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Waller Jr.; Betty and Jane Trowbridge, daughter of the Calvin Trowbridges; the Rumseys' daughter, Jean, and Helen Ewing.

Some of the recently finished "alums" are Miss Jane Warner, Miss Susanna Smith, Mrs. Oliver C. Bryan, who was Mildred Allen before she married the dashing British officer, the Leslie Foster, the two Frederick Scott daughters, Isabel who is to be married in June to Albert Keep, and Emily who is now Mrs. F. Langdon Hubbard of Detroit, Miss Winifred Smith, Mrs. Ralph C. Otis Jr. [Catherine Crerar] Miss Edith Fairbank, Mrs. Frederick Hellyer [La Verne Louer] and Mrs. Woodbury S. ..., who was Miss Jane McLennan before her marriage this winter.

I understand, the Farmington alumnae, wishing to keep in touch with their alma mater, gave a luncheon at Christmastime for the girls now in school, and none of them appeared, so they've decided not to have any spring vacation affair for them.

The Chicago Vassar club announces a dinner this evening at Vassar house for Miss Marion Coats of the class of 1901. Miss Coats is president of the new Sara Lawrence college. Mrs. Hal... Thorne is in charge of the reservations.

Receiving at the Drama league tea following a talk by Dr. Bruno Roselli of Vassar college this afternoon will be Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mrs. Archibald Freer, Mrs. Chauncey Keep, Mrs. Frank Logan, Mrs. Ernst ..., Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Miss ... Herrick, Miss Lucy Martin, Mrs. Samuel Newton, and Miss Mary ... The officers of the Italy-America society, including Mrs. William B. Clarke, Mrs. Chauncey B. ..., and Mrs. Hermon Butler, Leopold Guaini, the Italian consul, and the William F. Carringtons of New York, are also to be present.

Mrs. William W. Gurley and Miss ... Gurley of 1416 State parkway returned yesterday from a four weeks' cruise of the West Indies. Mrs. Charles M. Hewitt and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alling were also members of the party. The Allings are motoring north through Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey H. Atkin of Winnetka are making a short stay in New Orleans. Mrs. Atkin's mother, Mrs. William A. Shaw, returned recently from a ten months' absence in France and England.

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis L. McArthur of 19 East Walton place returned Saturday from their motor trip in Florida. They spent several days at Havana.

Miss Josephine Fish Wed to Cousin of Italian King

Miss Josephine Fish was married yesterday morning to Count Anthony de Bosdari of Italy, in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Charles King Corsant of the Lake Shore Drive hotel. Only members of the bride's family were present. Count Bosdari, who is a second cousin of the Italian king, crossed the ocean from London, where he is employed as advertising head of the Selfridge department store, to bring his romance to a successful culmination in California. He met Miss Fish, daughter of Mrs. Corsant, in London. After the ceremony, Count and Countess de Bosdari departed on the Century for New York, from where they will sail on Saturday for a stay in France and Italy before taking up their permanent residence in London. The bride wore for the marriage ceremony the beige crêpe ensemble, with small felt hat, in which she intended to travel.

Common Sense Is Better than Half Baked New Theories

by Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

"I'd like to stay in this afternoon with you, mother, and you and I can have a cozy little time together," said a small daughter one day not long ago, just as she left for school in the morning.

The visiting friend registered disapproval, and when the child was gone she burst out:

"Mary, that child is getting a mother complex. You should be very, very careful." And a solemn look accompanied the words.

"O, nonsense, Jane," laughed her hostess. "She's a naturally companionable child and we're very congenial, and that's all there is to it."

Sensible woman. But we're not all as clear headed as that. Some of us are more easily confused in our thinking.

A little knowledge is a dangerous thing in almost any field—medicine, phychology, the sciences. In fact, the more subtle and profound the subject, the more dangerous a mere smattering may be. A little superficial information, a patter of terminology, and some people are apt to feel that they have a working knowledge upon which they can base all sorts of conclusions, to a misleading and often dangerous finish. This is especially true in applying some of the new philosophies, the new psychologies, to children.

Take, for instance, the use of psychoanalysis in interpreting our children's actions. It is, as its name implies, the analyzing of the psyche or soul—a profound, a difficult, a supremely delicate task. Because of certain aspects of the science it has caught the public eye and to a certain extent been popularized. People read a supperficial article or two, let it color their understanding of their children, and go around feeling that some psycho-analytic goblin will get them if they don't watch out.

Unless you are seriously, thoughtfully studious about these subjects, it is safer for you to simply use your own common sense and your own first hand knowledge of human nature to solve the problems your children present.

Little Phillip was an observing little chap and a human question mark.

One day as I sat beneath my ironing board putting on a clean cover he crawled beside me and asked the eternal, "What are you doin', mother?"

"O, I'm just sewing," I replied somewhat impatiently. "What are you doing?"

"I'm seein'," he answered earnestly. E. S.

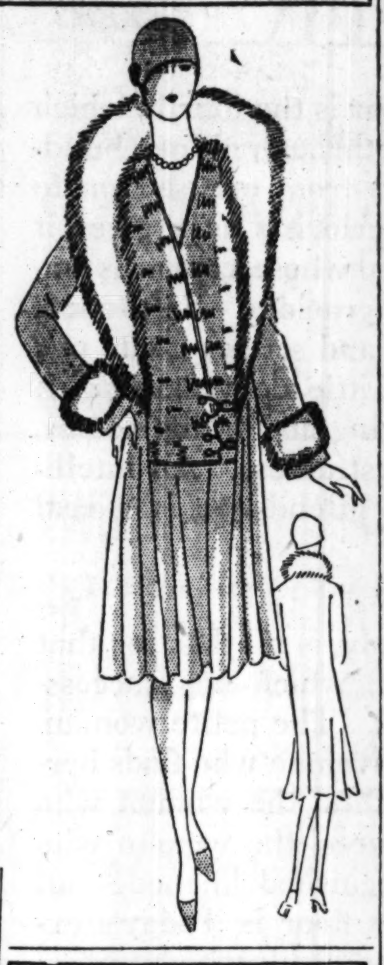
The Basket Weave Is a Spring Favorite

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—One sometimes feels, in looking over the new fabrics, that fashion has put all her eggs in one basket—weave. There are really so many of them this year—these materials with a basket weave—that one does not know where to begin to tell about them. Suffice it to say that they appear constantly in spring coats, whether separate or part of the ensemble.

Today we show one of these basket weaves functioning in the coat of an ensemble designed for sports wear. The color of the ensemble is that soft dove gray which has been featured this spring so widely and the fine basket weave cloth of the coat is set off by fox, to match. Under this goes a skirt of matching jersey which is topped by a jacket jumper done in a tricot weave of rose color, interwoven with silver. A touch that makes this last named detail especially good is found in the narrow bands of the skirt material divided into a forked effect and fastening with silver buttons.

These metallic woven knitted materials have been called out in renewed force this spring, and that in the face of those authorities who predicted we had seen the last of any smart sanction for such metallic effects. The metal touched tricot is still a favored reature in both the jacket ensemble and in the long coated variety we show here.



Go Slow on Rapid Reducing Gals, if You'd Keep Healthy

by Antoinette Donnelly

The older woman, I believe, has become better balanced on the subject of reducing, thanks to the propaganda of the medical authorities of the country. She is not rushing in such large numbers to fake and harmful reducing methods as she did two years ago. With the understanding of her years she has become more awake to the dangers that lurk in the too speedy removal of avoirdupois.

But how to get an old head on the shoulders of young women is the immediate concern of medics and parents and advisers like myself.

Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf before the race betterment conference recently exploded his theories about the why of the prevalence of tuberculosis among our female population between the ages of 15 and 30.

The flimsy dress, the thin material, the sleeveless waist and short skirt, the low shoes and thin silk stockings in the coldest weather he cited as direct causes.

As a secondary and equally important cause, Dr. Knopf blames the insane desire for a boyish appearance, intentional undernourishment, the fear that in spite of a good appetite, a good meal will produce overweight. To the undermining influence of flimsy dress and undernourishment is added a good deal of night life, in many instances. Late dancing parties after a hard day's work cause insufficient sleep. The habit of excessive cigaret smoking and sometimes even of imbibing bad liquor are included in the night life.

To all of which the young woman doesn't lend an unsympathetic ear. She lends no ear at all. Tuberculosis statistics, however, keep on mounting among females. But what is more, our concern is that with this tuberculosis increase there is a great beauty depreciation among the same young girls.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

To appear slender is the first step to smartness, and this design can well go a long way toward accomplishing this end. The box-plaits at the front of the skirt are decidedly youthful, and the narrow sash, tying in the center front in a bow, gives just the right finish. Two surfaces of crêpe satin, printed crêpe de chine, angora jersey, and two tones of flat silk crêpe are interesting materials.

The pattern, 2992, comes in sizes 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 40 inch material.

Rule for Winning a Woman's Love? Try 'n' Find One!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

The best way to win a woman? Do you know the answer? Does any one, without knowing the woman?

Two men of the world were discussing methods of softening feminine hearts. One still adhered to the caveman idea and suggested that all men should adopt it. The other went to the opposite extreme with: "Make her feel you're weak and you need her. Get in a perambulator and act like a baby."

And some women would take one of either variety and feel they'd put something over on their bachelor sisters. Some like 'em strong and some like 'em weak—just like their tea.

But for the average run of women a mixture of strength and weakness is what doctor and lawyer would suggest to keep 'em at home 'tending the duties for which they got the ring and the cook book.

Certainly, before trying either the strong man stuff or the weak a man should know his woman and know just about how much of each she would stand for. If she had a job and is a self-supporting sort of individual the caveman stuff wouldn't go at all. The weak man rôle goes just for so long and no longer. A mother teaches her baby to stand on its feet as soon as they're able to support him. She loves to do things for him, and she loves to feel that he needs her. But she's proudest and goes about doing her best bragging when the little shaver accomplishes something without her assistance at all.

That's about the way the average woman feels toward her grown-up baby. She wants to parade him as a capable, independent big boy, about whose deeds she may brag to family, neighbors, and friends. The cave man is better than the weak on the long distance test. The weak baby is like the soldier's pack. It becomes heavier and heavier with every step.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Apple Stuffing.

Mrs. Rasmussen writes me: "My husband takes your paper, so I often read what you write. For this reason please let me straighten you out on the 'Prune and Apple Stuffing.' My husband is a full blooded Dane, American born. His parents came from Denmark and he says that this stuffing is a Danish dish and that his mother used to make it. Consequently soon after we were married I had to learn from him how to make this Danish stuffing, and it, with the duck, is our favorite dish for Thanksgiving.

"Here it is: Equal parts of prunes, apples and bread crumbs is about right for a medium sized duck. I soak the prunes over night, then take out the seeds. Slice the apples about like you would for apple pie. Do not cook either apples or prunes, as they will cook in the duck. Mix apples, prunes, and bread crumbs, sprinkle a little salt over them, then pour enough milk over it to make it soft and juicy like any other dressing, and mix thoroughly and stuff it in the duck. If too much, place the balance in the pan beside the duck.

"We do not put any fat or pork in with it, as the duck is always so fat and the stuffing absorbs enough fat from the duck to season it nicely. Keep plenty of water in the bottom of the roasting pan, and it will not burn, and when the duck is tender from roasting a sufficient length of time this dish is fit for a king to eat."

And Mrs. J. L. Torphy writes: "It was with great interest I read your recipe in today's paper—'Prune and Apple Stuffing.' I believe you will find this a Danish recipe—my mother always used this stuffing for either duck or goose, and also for baked spareribs. For the latter she would get two sides that fit fairly well together, would stuff them with the apple and prune stuffing and hold them together by winding a string round and round. I have tried to make this stuffing, but it does not taste like mother's."

Fourth Floor, East.

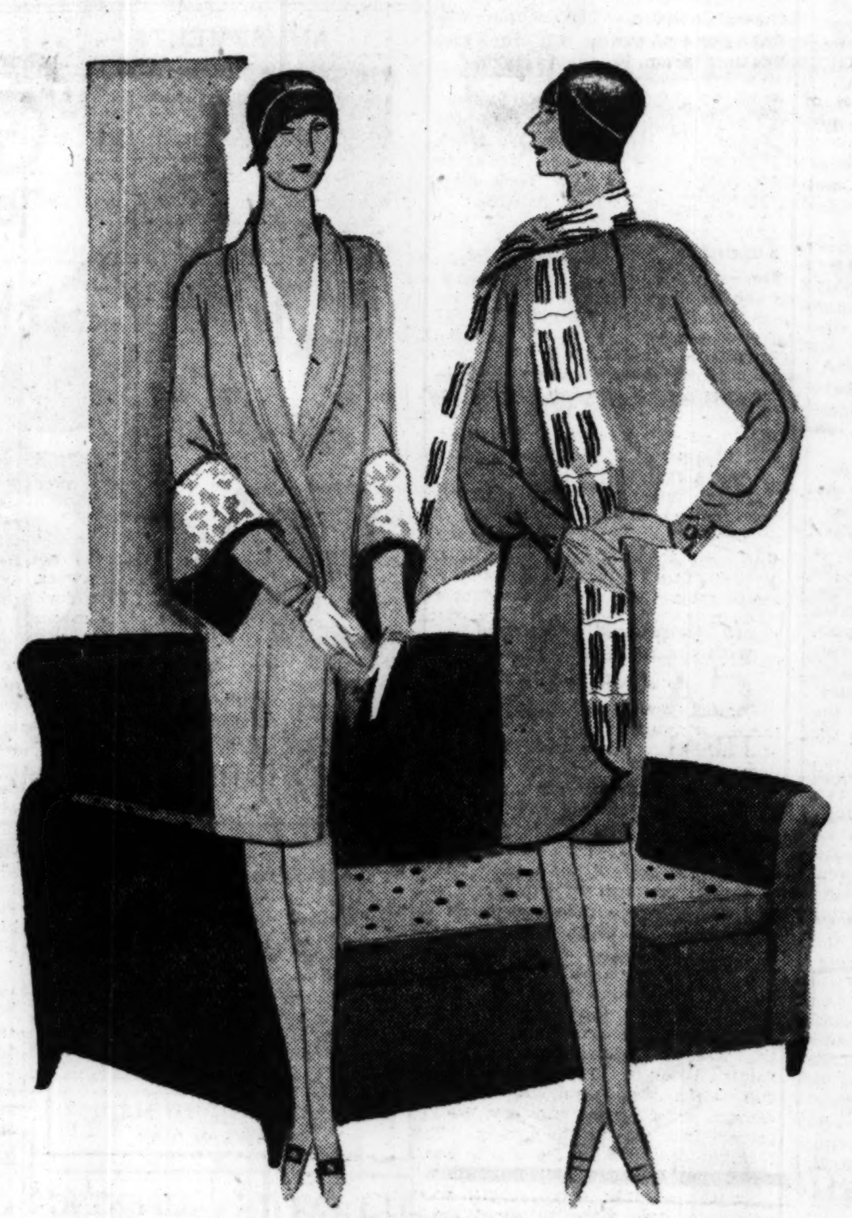
AN entirely new floor is the fourth, which extends its rooms through all our buildings—with easy access from one section to the other. Skilled interiorists have given it a character and beauty whose charm is unobtrusive but ever so gracious. Soft-toned, deep-cushioned chairs and settees invite one to a leisurely choice. Little alcoves, in which are tucked away viewing and fitting rooms, mean seclusion and restfulness. An intelligent and style-versed attendance is a real guide in selection.

BACKGROUND only, is all this, for that high specialization which has successfully met "type" needs. The petite woman, the larger woman, the woman who finds herself best in sports clothes, the woman who restricts her expenditures, the woman who exacts the most distinguished in mode—all are served here. This floor is Today's expression of the ideas and ideals which underlie the continual development of this store.



The Paquin Sleeve

DESIGNED very wide over a tight sleeve is in harmony with the modern theme. This coat for misses in an imported woolen—black or tan—and banded in close flat fur. $150.

Fourth Floor, East.

Polka Dots

ON a lace yoke these polka dotted silks fashion a frock becomingly youthful to many women. In blue and white dots. 14 years to "42." Moderate Price Frocks. $27.50.

Fourth Floor, Wabash.

Every Print

HAS a frock quite its own in this large collection; there are flower prints, those conventionally designed, and vine and leaf prints. Moderate Price Frocks. Sizes 14 years to "42." $17.50.

Fourth Floor, Wabash.

The section of Moderately Priced Frocks presents many little printed frocks that are smart under coats now, and promise much charm all during the summer.

PAT MALONE.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—The difference between major and minor league baseball was much in evidence here again today, so it was with marked ease that the Cubs put over another victory on the local employés of William Wrigley. The athletes from the higher strata of the profession did things befitting their position and after nine rounds the Angels possessed only the light end of a 9 to 1 score.

Against a pair of Angel hurlers, one a right hander, the other a southpaw, the Cubs rolled up twelve safe clouts, most of which were bunched in a way to produce maximum results. Some of them also were for distance, the choicest being an honest drive that Hack Wilson propelled out of the park.

Malone Has Speed to Spare.

That was Hack's only offering of the afternoon, but quite a number of others, in fact, everybody in the line-up, took some sort of a hand in the bombardment that started with two runs in the second inning and continued intermittently till the eighth, when a cluster of three tallies went into the day's records.

Pat Malone, the Minneapolis purchase, was McCarthy's starting flinger, and the speed baller had no trouble holding off the enemy during the seven rounds he was asked to work. Malone went to the task like a fellow in mid-June form, and his high swift proved so bothersome to the Angels that seven of them flapped the air in strikeouts. Seven of them also hit Pat safely, but some of the blows were not exactly robust and most of them were made after the big right hander had decided to ease up under the protection of a neat lead.

What little pitching remained to be done after Malone had departed was done right well by Phil Weinert, whose record was one hit in two innings.

Gonzales Smacks One.

The Cubs' two run act in the second inning started with a pass to Wilson, but he was forced by Grimm after Stephenson had popped out. Gonzales then plastered the ball against the right field bleachers for two bases, Grimm scoring on the hit. Yoter tore off a single to center and Gonzales crossed the plate. Malone also banged one safely, but Yoter tried to go to third on it and failed to make the grade.

The fourth frame brought some real action and two more of the Chicago delegates registered. After Stephenson fanned Grimm singled. Gonzales lofted a fly to right which went for a double when it was lost in the sun. Yoter drew a pass to load the bases, and then Malone shoved a hit past Tolson at first base, Grimm and Gonzales going home.

The next outstanding incident was Wilson's homer. First up in the fifth, he gave the ball a delightful ride over the left field wall and into the front porch of an adjacent residence.

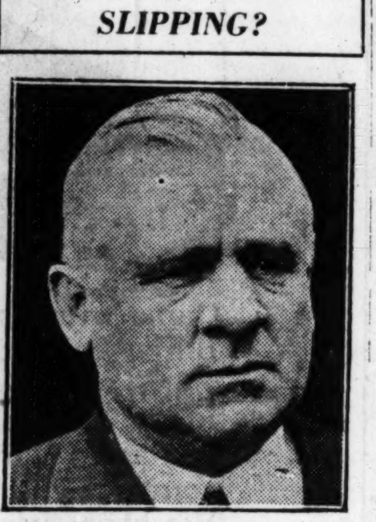
It was in this same round that the Angels picked up their first and only tally.

When Weathersby took up the pitching for the Angels in the seventh he delighted the attending natives by fanning Yoter, Malone, and McMillan, but he paid for his boldness. The Cubs nailed him for a run in the seventh on Berger's two base muff of Cuyler's fly and a single by Stephenson. Then they gave him something not to write home about by scoring three in the eighth. Yoter opened this rally with a single. English batted for Malone and was hit on the shin by a pitched ball. Beck then sacrificed, McMillan sent the two runners home with a double and scored himself on a single to center by Cuyler.

McGraw's Iron Hand Power Slips as Giants Head North

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SLIPPING?



JOHN J. M'GRAW.

Tampa, Fla., March 25.—The New York Giants tumbled their baggage aboard the night train for St. Augustine last night, completing a dash through Florida without any aid or comfort from John J. McGraw. Shortly before they left their training grounds at Augusta, Mr. McGraw had the misfortune or good fortune to be hit on one of his ankles by a batted ball. So when the Giants came down to play a return date with the Philadelphia Athletics at Fort Myers, Fla., Mr. McGraw remained where he was.

There are those who say this blow on the ankle was something in the nature of a favor to Mr. McGraw, because a trip through Florida would have awakened unhappy memories of an expanse of jungle near Sarasota which Mr. McGraw and some associates were retailing to the investors of a couple of years ago at very interesting prices.

Pennant Park Flops.

Pennant Park was to have been a big thing. In the sale of the desirable building plots, including the alligator rights, there was a special appeal to the type of American known as the faithful or dyed-in-the-wool fan, for the streets were named after great celebrities and the promotion presented a rare opportunity to dwell on Judge Landis avenue or Ban Johnson boulevard. There was only one street that was not named after somebody of importance in the baseball business. This was a serpentine street with many kinks. There was some talk at one time of naming it after Swede Risberg, but it was only talk and nothing came of it.

Pennant Park was one of those subdivisions which Florida would prefer to forget. Mr. McGraw probably desires to forget it, too. But, though the boom is over, the memory lingers on, and if that blow on Mr. McGraw's ankle caused him a certain kind of pain, it undoubtedly spared him another kind. It kept him in Augusta.

I have heard from retired real estate men in the Sarasota region that Mr. McGraw did something that not many other promoters of unsuccessful subdivisions did. He paid back as much as he could of the money that was attracted to Pennant Park by the advertisements which ran in the papers back in the boom days, appealing directly to the baseball customer.

"You have followed me to success in baseball," these advertisements said, "now follow me in Pennant Park," or words to that effect.

Tough Guy No Longer.

Altogether, the tough, quarrelsome, tender-hearted John McGraw seems to have lost much in the last few years, including the full command of his ball club. When he began to take them on the chin he took a lot of them, and even if you are one who disliked him for his bullying manner you are likely to be softened by stories of the man's impulsive generosity with his money when he had a lot.

Dan Howley, the manager of the Browns, was discussing McGraw a few nights ago and he said, "Mac's pocketbook was always open to an old-timer in need of money." Another man tells of how, on his last trip abroad a few seasons ago, McGraw was pandhandled by all the ex-jockeys, touts and unclassified stranded Americans in Paris, and in most cases with sensational success.

Tierney Near the Throne.

Now it appears that Mr. Jim Tierney, the secretary of the ball club, is much worse than a road secretary ordinarily is to a baseball troupe, and that Mr. McGraw is not nearly the unquestionable authority that he used to be. The peculiar thing about this is that Mr. McGraw is supposed to have been the man who got Mr. Tierney his job with the firm about six years ago.

At that time you would not have believed that Mr. Tierney would ever become so influential with Charlie Stoneham that he could trade away McGraw's players, but the new standard story of the reason why Rogers Hornsby, the strength and fighting inspiration of McGraw's 1927 team was traded away is that Hornsby had told Tierney to go to hell.

The Giants are heading in the general direction of home now, and there have been reports hither and yon in the training area that Mr. McGraw will follow Hornsby to the Boston club next year.

The Canadians' soccer team defeated Vienna club, 5 to 2, yesterday in a fast exhibition game at De Paul field. Strengthened by the addition of two new players, the Canadians proved superior, although their opponents threatened throughout.

Ambler and Scott were the recruits introduced to Canadian fans yesterday. Ambler, playing center, shot through two of the winners' points, while Scott, at center half, displayed defensive strength.

Blue Bells and Cermak Flashes won junior Peel cup games which were played prior to the Canadian Vienna contest. The Blue Bells defeated the Canadian club juniors, 4 to 1, and the Cermaks swamped the Northern Lights, 8 to 1.

TWO SOX HURLERS FALTER; DALLAS TAKES 10-9 GAME

Connally and Cox Give Away Big Lead.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GEORGE CONNALLY

Dallas, Tex., March 25.—Two woefully inefficient pitchers, George Connally and George Cox, dissipated a 9 to 3 lead hammered out by the White Sox this afternoon, permitting the Dallas Steers to win the final game of the Texas invasion, 10 to 9. The victory was polished off with a Garrison finish that produced three runs and broke up the ball game with only one out being chalked against the Steers when the end came.

The first installment of grief came in the last half of the second inning, when a Sox lead of 1 to 0 was wiped out and the count became 3 to 1 in favor of Dallas. In this frame Sergt. Connally, who hasn't shown anything all spring except a ravenous appetite and a languorous disposition, yielded four singles.

Having memories of the days when Connally was a good pitcher, the Sox set down the second inning experience as an accident and, rejoicing because on Saturday the cataracts had been swept from their eyes, started operations in the third inning, during which 5 hits and an error netted them four runs. The score was then 5 to 3.

Sox Lead, 9 to 3.

Connally wabbled through the third inning without damage, and the Sox, still thrilled at the sound of base hits, came back in the fourth and made five more safeties good for four more runs. At this juncture the score was: Chicago, 9; Dallas, 3.

The tired Sergeant expired before the Steers' half of the fourth frame had been concluded. After one was out Morse drew a pass and then Mulvey got the first of his four successive hits, putting Morse on second. Riley singled to center, scoring Morse and putting Mulvey on third. Heckman singled, scoring Mulvey and putting Riley on third. Gross walked, filling the bases, and Tate also was passed, forcing Riley in. The bases were still full when Cox went to the slab. George struck out Billings and Walker forced Tate to end the inning. This brought the score to 9-6 in the Sox's favor, but Dallas wasn't through.

In the seventh three singles in a row after two were out produced a marker for the Steers, and then came the ninth and the Sox blowup which cost the game.

How the Steers Won.

Skidmore opened the session by striking out. Comstock singled off Mann's glove and Morse singled to left, Comstock stopping at second. Mulvey socked out his fourth hit, a double to right, Comstock scoring and Morse pulling up at third. Although second and third were occupied and first wasn't, Mr. Cox elected to lay one right down the alley for Riley, the Steers' "cleanup man," and Riley sent his regards to his old Blackhawk hockey teammates in Chicago in the form of a two base drive to the center field, and Morse and Mulvey trotted over the plate to end the performance.

This is Connally's sixth year on the Sox, and never before has he looked one-tenth as bad as on his appearances this year. Cox has had his boosters in the Sox camp, but there are many who held even before today that he'll do better in his beloved Cotton States league again this year than in the American league.

The club returns to Shreveport tonight. Most of the week probably will be spent in scribbling blue good-by—and good luck—slips.

Johnny Mostil tonight told Manager Schalk he would not go to Shreveport instead he will work out here during the week, joining the club in Memphis a week from tomorrow.

FORM, EFFORT, BUT NO RESULT

Babe Ruth misses by the proverbial baseball mile. And so does Catcher Taylor of the Braves, who failed to hold the ball. Sherry Magee, famous player, is the umpire. He will start his first season this spring calling 'em in the National league.

New York Boxers Pack Draw Verdict; Leave for Home

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

"The greatest boxing show I ever saw."

That was the unanimous opinion of every one interviewed yesterday regarding the amateur meet between Golden Gloves champions of New York and Chicago held at the Coliseum Saturday night before a capacity crowd of more than 10,000 frenzied boxing fans.

It was fitting, the fans said, that the inter-city tourney should result in a tie. Sixteen fights were held and each team won eight. Chicago led 8 to 7 when the final bout was staged but George Hoffman, the New York heavyweight, proved too much for Walter Radka of the Chicago team and the tourney closed with honors even.

Veteran fight fans, fighters, ex-fighters and managers agreed it was one of the best boxing shows ever staged in Chicago and the greatest amateur show ever held in the middle west.

Many Women in Crowd.

Chicago promoters and members of the boxing commission forgot themselves and cheered the efforts of the fighters, while the spectators gave each contestant an ovation when he left the ring. Naturally, the winners received most of the applause, but the losers also were loudly cheered. Even the New York enthusiasts commented on this angle of the show.

It was an unusual gathering for a boxing show. Bank presidents and high officials of the business world were seated around the ring. There was a splendid turnout of women, most of whom enjoyed the contests immensely.

But the feature which pleased those familiar with boxing was the honest efforts of the contestants. There were no pulled punches. There were no carries or dives. Each boy who answered the first tap of the bell was bent on winning his fight. He gave his all, not so much for personal honor, but for the glory of the city he represented.

The show was conducted in a faultless manner by a competent corps of officials. The bouts were staged in rapid succession and there were no delays. The boxers answered the calls of the clerks promptly and there was no confusion at the ringside. As soon as the winners were determined they were given their prizes.

Fight in New York Next Year.

THE TRIBUNE will stage its next tourney in the Coliseum next March. The winners and the runners-up in the eight classes will be taken to New York late in March to meet the eastern champions. All expenses of the Chicago team will be paid, and efforts made to take the boys east several days in advance of the show in order to show them around the American metropolis.

Indications point to a larger entry for next year's TRIBUNE event. If such is the case, two rings will be installed on preliminary nights, while one will be used for semi-final and final contests. If the event continues to grow in future years, eliminations will be held in three sections of the city on different nights and a grand final staged in the Coliseum.

The New York team, in charge of Paul Gallico, sports editor of the New York News, left for home yesterday on the Broadway Limited. Although the boys were disappointed because they did not win, those in charge of the team were perfectly satisfied with the decisions rendered by the judges, George Barton of Minneapolis and Ray Campbell of Cleveland. They also expressed satisfaction over the fair and impartial rulings of the referees, Phil Collins, Davie Miller, and Eddie Purdy.

Before leaving Mr. Gallico asserted he hoped New York will receive the Chicago team next year in the same manner that Chicago opened its arms to his boys.

Call of Spring Lures 8,000 to Golf Courses

Eight thousand golfers inaugurated the local season yesterday with full and half rounds over most of the city's seven score courses. About one-third as many got in a little preliminary play Saturday, and several of the more venturesome preceded them by a full week, but yesterday's was the first big play of the year.

The spring weather attracted record March crowds to several clubs, and some reported attendance of close to one hundred. Caddy masters stated 75 or more golfers played at Ridge, Beverly, Evanston, Glen View, North Shore, and other courses yesterday. Evanston had a total play of 200 for the week-end.

Players Destroy Score Cards.

Although the courses are not in the best of condition this early in the season and most of the players are a bit rusty after the winter's layoff, one or two remarkable scores were turned in. In the great majority of the cases, however, the early birds tried out their drives and tore up their score cards.

At the North Shore Golf club, W. D. Fowler, chairman of the greens committee, turned in a neat 37 for the long nine and received the commendation of Walter Kennett, North Shore's new pro, who arrived yesterday from Tampa, Fla. Kennett aired his golf clubs over the course for the first time and Club Manager Burns, who played with him, vouches for the fact that he was on the green in par each time.

Trap Shooting at North Shore.

Trap shooting also came in for its play at North Shore, with C. A. Nash shooting three runs of 24 out of 25, and Victor L. Scott scoring 22-22-23 with twenty gauge shot.

Several of the courses, which watchful greens keepers kept closed yesterday, are scheduled for opening within a few days.

PEACOCK WINS HIGH GUN PRIZE AT LINCOLN PARK

Walter C. Peacock won class A honors and captured the high gun prize at the Lincoln park traps yesterday. He shattered 98 out of 100 targets, standing at sixteen yards' rise, finishing in front in a field of more than 100.

Dr. C. E. Cook won class B honors with a score of 97 out of 100; W. R. James was the class C winner with a 94 score, and W. Buddinger captured the class D trophy with 83.

C. R. James finished in front in the doubles, two twenty-five pairs at sixteen yards' rise, by hitting 42.

DE LA SALLE IS 32 TO 11 VICTOR OVER ST. LOUIS

St. Xavier Five Cops Third Place.

Final Scores

CHAMPIONSHIP.
De La Salle, Joliet, 32; St. Louis, University High, 11.
THIRD PLACE.
St. Xavier, Louisville, 31; St. Patrick, Pueblo, Colo., 21.

Coach John Carroll of De La Salle High school, Joliet, last night carried home the Cardinal Mundelein trophy, emblematic of the national Catholic high school basketball championship after his boys—Colona, Wolcott, McCarthy, Furlong and Kennedy had overwhelmed St. Louis University High, 32 to 11, in the final game at the Coliseum. A crowd of 7,500 saw the Joliet boys repeat their triumph of last year and become the first team to win the tournament twice.

St. Xavier, probably the most popular team, took third place by running over St. Patrick of Pueblo, Colo., 31 to 21.

A team of rugged lads, fast and accurate shooters brought Joliet the championship in a game which was merely a romp for the winners. The vaunted defense of St. Louis crumbled before the fast Joliet players who grabbed the lead at the outset and just breezed along with nothing able to stop them.

De La Salle at Top Form.

Without question, De La Salle improved with every game and when they reached the finals last night it would have taken a superteam to stop their determined fight. De La Salle tossed baskets from every angle, near or far, and it was this kind of shooting that made the score so one sided.

All of the Joliet regulars except Capt. Colona scored two or more baskets. High scoring honors fell to the tall, husky Owen McCarthy, center, who helped himself to six baskets. There was no stopping McCarthy, who weighs just a bit less than 200 pounds and stands well over six feet. It was his first year on the team, but he conducted himself as a veteran campaigner.

Most of Joliet's shots were from long range, and at this distance Furlong and Kennedy, the guards, excelled. Three times in succession Furlong stood outside of St. Louis' defensive cordon and popped in baskets in the third quarter.

Johnny Evans, who weighed 107 pounds when he played in the tourney last year and who is not much heavier now, led St. Xavier to the decisive victory over St. Patrick in the game which decided third place. The slatlike forward, a selection for the all-star team, tossed five baskets and three free throws.

St. Xavier Takes Lead.

Evans was the main cog in the Louisville five's attack. He was in every play and displayed an uncanny accuracy to sink shots from all angles. Another boy of the same build, "Occie" Stammerman, though he did not get any points, was in the thick of every scramble and helped the teamwork of the Kentuckians.

St. Xavier scored first and never relinquished the lead, turning the quarter with a 9 to 4 advantage, closing the half with a 12 to 7 margin, and winding up the third period with a 17 to 8 advantage. After Louisville had run up a 31 to 15 score, the regulars were removed. At this stage, St. Patrick spurted and gathered in five more points.

Sabo, one of the best scorers of the tourney and winner of the trophy for the player of most value to his team, was held to one basket and four free throws.

JACK M'CARTHY MEETS EASTERN FIGHTER TONIGHT

Joe Chaney Expected to Test Local Boy.

Jack McCarthy, the west side welterweight who has won two decisions over My Sullivan of St. Paul and Joe Chaney of Baltimore will be the principals in the windup of the boxing show at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision and make weight at 145 pounds.

JACK M'CARTHY.

Chaney is a tearing in type of fighter who is expected to give the local battler a fight for a part of the distance at least. Joe can hit fairly hard with his right hand. If Jack performs as well tonight as he did against Sullivan, he should win the decision without much trouble. McCarthy is one of the fastest fighters with his hands since the days of Packey McFarland and he can hit from any angle.

Robarts Meets Corrado.

Harry Robarts, the local middleweight, and Joe Corrado of Evanston will meet in the six round semi-windup at 165 pounds. The other fights will be between Paddy Waltier and Paul Wangley, Frankie LaMarre and Joe Thomas, Johnny Caserio and Bobby Allen and Howard Shaddon and George Brown. The first bout will go on at 8:15 o'clock.

Fighting ability of Les Marriner, the University of Illinios football player, will be put to the test tomorrow night when he meets Harvey Mortenson in one of the features of Promoter Neils Vierup's boxing show at the K. of C. hall, 4723 W. Madison street. Marriner is being groomed for fights with some of the outstanding contenders but before such matches are made, Les must win from Mortenson, a rugged local heavyweight.

Corri Wants Roberti Bout.

Pietro Corri, the New York Italian heavyweight, and Jimmy Byrne of Louisville will be the principals in the windup. Corri has come to Chicago to secure a match with Roberto Roberti who won on a foul from Big Boy Peterson last Friday night.

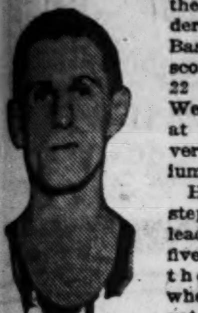
HOFBAUER WINS AGAIN IN TITLE FORESTER PLAY

Western Reserve Falls, 26-22; Kraft Stars.



DICK KRAFT.

Hofbauer stretched its string of victories to four straight in the championship series of the Catholic Order of Foresters Basketball league, scoring a 26 to 22 battle from Western Reserve at De Paul university auditorium yesterday.

Hofbauer stepped into the lead in the first five minutes of the first half, when Dick Kraft got the range on the short shots. The big pivot man accumulated five baskets during this period and gave his team mates a 15 to 6 advantage at half time. Western Reserve opened up a bit in the second half and made the going tougher for the winner. Breyak furnished most of the excitement as his team began to creep up on Hofbauer. With five minutes to go, Western Reserve had pulled up to within three points of the leaders. Hofbauer's powerful defensive play showed to advantage here, however, and the Reserve attack was held in check to the finish.

St. Monica outpointed Englewood, 29 to 24, in the second game, one of the fastest of the entire series. The first half was featured by lightning play but little scoring, and St. Monica had a small edge, leading 10 to 8. The second half saw Englewood take affairs into its own hands and step into the lead, which it held for more than [illegible] minutes before St. Monica dropped four short baskets to regain the lead, which it held to the close.

St. Gabriel defeated St. Elizabeth, [illegible] to 14, in the final game. Lineups of feature games:

St. Francis Upsets De Soto as K. of C. Cage Meet Opens

Two west division teams, one central division team and one from the southwest division, remained in the running for the championship of the Knights of Columbus Basketball league by winning their first round contests yesterday at the 132d Regiment armory during an afternoon replete with thrills.

IKE MAHONEY.

The biggest upset of the day occurred when St. Francis, runner-up in the southwest section, outspeeded De Soto of the north division, one of the favorites for the title, 27 to 24. The Saints jumped into the lead at the start through brilliant work by Garippo and at half time held a 17 to 10 advantage.

Damen, runner-up in the west section, defeated St. Patrick's of the central division, 28 to 24, in an overtime period in the most thrilling game of the day. The west siders got away to a five point lead, only to have St. Pats overhaul them near the finish of the half, 8 to 7. During the second half the lead seesawed back and forth, Brown and Kane of the Harps keeping their team in the fight. Finally, in the last minute, the former tied up the count, 21 to 21.

Damen won during the overtime on free throws by Murphy and Kluchinski and a basket by the former.

Hennepin, west division champion, and Madonna, central division titleholder, emerged with victories. Ketteler of the southwest section held Hennepin to a 10 to 10 count during the first half, and when half the second period had been played, was out in front. Leroy Winterhalter's basketshooting and the floor work of Sam McAllister turned the tide in the last minute.

Madonna eliminated McHale of the southern division after the latter club had led most of the way. Lineups:

Chicago Bowlers Lead All Four Events in A. B. C. Meet

Kansas City, Mo., March 25.—[Special.]—With Phil Wolf, 54 year old veteran, going into first place in the all events, and Joe Hradek and Hank Will taking the lead in the doubles today, Chicago bowlers hold all four top places in the American Bowling Congress tourney here.

Scoring games of 504, 410 and 499, Hradek and Will smashed their way into the lead with 1,363, the second highest count ever registered in the doubles division of the national pin classic. A 4-6 split in the seventh frame of the last game prevented the Cicero pair from lowering the former record, 1,380, scored by Clarence and Harry Thoma at the Chicago tournament in 1924.

Wolf grabbed the lead in the all events with a total of 1,937. Wolf, a member of the Bruck Five of Chicago, counted 657 in the team event, 650 in the doubles, and 630 in the singles. He has rolled in 25 A. B. C. tourneys.

George Geiser, another Chicagoan, shot into third place in the same division with a mark of 1,892 on counts of 664, 627 and 601.

Registering games of 244, 244 and 209, Charley Bork landed another high spot for Chicago in the singles division, his 697 count placing him in second berth. C. George pummeled the pins for a 680 total to roll into a tie for sixth place. J. Kubec, another Cicero shooter, collected 671 for tenth place.

Chuck Collier's Mineralites, rated as one of the greatest tournament teams in the country, shot into the lead in the five man division Saturday night with a 3,019 mark. The Bleck Acmes landed in second berth with 3,013. Puritan Malts, another Randolph league entry, piled up 2,968 for fifth place.

The meet terminates April 2, but Chicago again has proved to the bowling world that it has the best pinsters in the business. Chicago scores:

TOPICS OF FINANCE, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

(By the Associated Press.)

The Fisher brothers of Detroit, who have amassed a huge fortune in the automotive industry during the last few years, are gradually enlarging their investments in other fields of activity. Wall street hears that they have been heavy buyers of New York Central stock in the last few months and that Fred J. Fisher is slated to go on the board of directors of that railroad. Either he or one of his brothers also is expected to be added to the board of the Adams Express company. Last year the Fisher and Cutten interests gained control of the common stock of Baldwin Locomotive works and were given representation on that board.

An issue of 320,000 shares $5 dividend convertible preferred stock of Engineers' Publice Service company is being offered at $100 a share by a syndicate headed by Stone & Weber and Blodgett. A new issue of $1,500,000 first mortgage 20-year sinking fund 7 per cent gold bonds of the Municipal Gas and Electric corporation of Recklinghausen, Germany, is being marketed at 98 and accrued interest to yield about 7.20 per cent by E. ELECTRIC HOMES GOAL AHEAD OF POWERFUL GROUP

BY HARPER LEECH.

Among the most intelligent of the critics of the electric power industry appears to be Mr. Frank Putnam, who has had a good deal to say lately.

Much that he has said has value, and he probably is on the right track when he predicts that the domestic electric load will come back to a place of premier importance. That will be when the modern home is electrified all over—built for heating, cooling and every form of housework by electric power.

The average American home will be such, when the American people by the orderly and uninterrupted progress of their industries have achieved income and buying power to equip, build and support such homes. One condition of their reaching such a level of income, and they can do it speedily, is that the electric power industry be left free to develop under the normal impulses of private enterprise and initiative.

If history is worth one of the myriad sheets of paper on which it has been written, most attempts at short cuts to such a desirable objective will defeat themselves. Mr. Putman seems to think that all that is necessary to bring about electrified homes on a universal scale is to provide the low electric rates which will make household heating, etc., at once feasible everywhere.

If domestic rates were so arranged tomorrow, and it could be accomplished without raising industrial power rates or so reducing net returns as to scare new capital away from the power industry, there would be a long and costly campaign of salesmanship and education ahead—to say nothing of the rebuilding and remodeling of homes and the installation of adequate wiring.

Mr. Putman in his zeal, sometimes seems to develop an animosity of less intelligent critics of the electrical industry. And here is an inference which calls for comment.

"There always has been an element of injustice—not unlike the railroad freight rebates of earlier days—in the utilities 'practice of charging small power users three to eight times as much per kilowatt hour as large power users. The discrimination has been a factor in the rapid concentration of industries in the larger cities, and their progressive monopolization by the large corporations."

Mr. Putman overlooks the fact that the shipper had to use the railroad—but industrial power has been sold in competition with an increasing variety of other power sources of increasing efficiency.

Since the electric power industry began to be an important industrial factor it hardly can be said that industries have become centralized, or that "trusts" as a rule come anywhere as near "monopolizing" their respective industries as at the beginning of the century. The conspicuous big corporations which have dazzled us in the stock market hardly owe their success to rates they pay for electricity—they "roll their own" to a remarkable extent.

HALLGARTEN & CO. and KISSEL, KINNICUTT & CO., Fiscal Agents.
NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK, Registrar.

The following information has been furnished by His Excellency Dr. Esteban Jaramillo, Minister of Finance and Public Credit of the Republic of Colombia:

COLOMBIA: The Republic of Colombia adjoins the Isthmus of Panama and has a coast line both on the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean. It has an area of over 475,000 square miles (more than that of all the States on the Atlantic Seaboard from Maine to Florida) and a present estimated population of over 7,800,000. The country is rich in natural resources, both agricultural and mineral. American companies have large investments in the mining, oil, fruit and live stock industries, total American investments in Colombia being estimated at approximately $220,000,000.

OBLIGATION: These Bonds will constitute the direct obligation of the Republic of Colombia, secured by its full faith and credit. The Republic agrees, among other things, that if while any Bonds of the present loan are outstanding, it shall secure any loan by a lien or charge upon any national income or revenues, the Bonds of this loan shall be secured in like form, equally and ratably with such loan.

PURPOSE: The proceeds of this issue will be devoted to railroad and highway construction purposes, pursuant to Law 102 of 1922 and Laws 12 and 106 of 1927, authorizing this issue.

REVENUES: Ordinary revenues and ordinary expenditures in recent years have been as follows:

	Ordinary Revenues	Ordinary Expenditures
1923	$32,425,591	$21,440,345
1924	32,576,680	23,179,928
1925	45,005,038	29,874,067
1926	54,163,088	46,372,006
1927	60,639,694	48,923,664

In the period 1922 to 1926 the Republic also received treaty payments from the United States in the total amount of $25,000,000.

During the same period, the Republic, in addition to the ordinary expenditures, decreased its national debt by more than $23,500,000, invested $6,000,000 initial capital in the Bank of the Republic and the Agricultural Mortgage Bank, and spent over $57,000,000 upon railroad construction and other public works.

While, as above shown, there was in 1927 a balance of ordinary revenues over ordinary expenditures, the outlay in that year for railroads and other public works was over $32,000,000, and exceeded by approximately $3,000,000 such balance of ordinary revenues and the proceeds of the $25,000,000 loan of 1927 applicable to such purposes during that year.

DEBT: Colombia's national debt, both internal and external, upon completion of this financing will approximate $80,440,000. This is equivalent to less than $11 per capita, which is among the lowest for any of the countries of the world, and compares with estimated figures for Argentina of $109 and for Uruguay of $125.

FOREIGN TRADE: The foreign trade of the country has shown a steady increase, the figures for recent years having been as follows:

	Imports	Exports
1922	$ 42,969,272	$ 51,323,547
1923	59,475,343	58,648,305
1924	50,950,225	83,429,199
1925	83,538,054	82,110,879
1926	109,729,749	109,043,863
1927	121,817,550	124,324,088

MONETARY SYSTEM: The Bank of the Republic, organized along the lines of the Federal Reserve System, is the sole bank of issue. On March 1, 1928, its gold reserves were 106.95% of its notes in circulation. The Colombian peso, with a gold parity of $.9733, is now quoted at a slight premium.

All conversions of pesos into dollars in the foregoing have been made at parity of exchange.
The Republic has agreed to make application to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Sullivan & Cromwell of New York City, who as to questions of Colombian law will consult with Dr. Pedro M. Carreno, Bogota, Colombia. We reserve the right to reject subscriptions in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount applied for and to close the subscription books at any time without notice. Brings Success in the Utility Field

On one hand, the isolated Public Utility Company, operating in limited territory, with high overhead and restricted possibilities of expansion. Contrast this with a group of diversified utilities supplying varied services to many different communities through a centralized organization, known as a Public Utility Investment Company.

In the latter case the best management is available for all the subsidiary companies, also experienced engineering ability, advantageous purchasing power, with consequent reduction of overhead, better service and lower rates.

A company with conspicuously experienced management is

The New York Times.

New York, March 24.—[Special.]—It has been a matter of common remark that what appeared to be a climax of speculation for the rise in stocks has continued longer than on any similar occasion in our financial history.

There have been markets of the kind, notably in the war years, when the scope of speculation repeatedly enlarged itself after it seemed to have culminated, but that occurred only after interruptions of considerable duration, in which prices were swept down with great rapidity.

Many Show Steady Rise.

Such reactions have overtaken individual stocks in the last twelve months, but the salient fact about the shares on which the present excited movement has converged is that most of them had already risen to their highest previous price, or higher.

Not only have three successive weeks been marked by abnormally violent action of a market which was breaking all precedent for extent of daily advances and for magnitude of transactions, but the picture follows a year of almost continuously rising prices. A phenomenon of this kind always raises several questions regarding the character of the situation that made it possible.

Those questions concern particularly the relation of the stock exchange operations to the general money market, the financial position of the community which is participating in the stock exchange transactions, and the possible significance of the movement in regard to the longer outlook for American prosperity.

Reveals Credit Reservoir.

The money market's action or inaction has thus far seemed to indicate a reservoir of credit which can supply the resources needed, even for the continuing requisitions of rapidly advancing prices. The condition of the outside public which is throwing its money excitedly into speculation is in some respects very unusual. Prosperity and surplus income, although distributed with much irregularity, are unprecedentedly great in numerous classes of the community. It is clearly evident that, for reasons peculiar to this period, the savings of a widely scattered American population have been directed to the stock market in a volume never hitherto attained. The Liberty bond subscriptions taught people who had never qualified as investors in the Wall street market how to buy sound securities, how to follow their prices on the stock exchange, and how to buy securities with borrowed money.

Concerted action by state governments to drive out the fradulent oil and mining "propositions," in which thrifty citizens had once sacrificed hundreds of millions of their surplus earnings, has released such accumulations for other purposes.

The Same "Sixty Minutes" But . . .

Many Chicago business men have put a new meaning into the midday lunch hour. Heretofore, it was a case of eat luncheon . . . smoke . . . talk or putter around.

Now . . . they still "putter" around . . . but it is on a sporty indoor golf course . . . largest in the world . . . at The ALLERTON

Come in today and try it out. Eat your luncheon under a beach umbrella . . . right at the course . . . play a round . . . we supply everything but the "alibis". Instruction, too, if you want it . . . by a well-known "pro".

Only five minutes from the Loop . . just one reason why you should look into The ALLERTON as a place to live.

Rates, $12 to $20 a week — Transient Rates, $2.50 $3.00, $3.50.

The Allerton is democratic, but is selective in personnel of residents.

LISTED ON THE BOSTON STOCK EXCHANGE

The Corporation agrees to pay interest without deduction for normal Federal Income Tax not to exceed 2%, which the Corporation or Trustee may be required or permitted to pay at the source.

The following information has been obtained from official sources:

Business: The Municipal Gas & Electric Corporation of Recklinghausen was organized by the City of Recklinghausen, Germany, in 1926, for the purpose of separately operating and owning the electric power, gas and light distributing system formerly operated by the City, which is situated in the highly industrialized section of the "Ruhr", one of the most densely populated districts of Europe. All the stock of the Company is owned by the City of Recklinghausen. On the completion of the enlargements to be effected from the proceeds of this financing, the Company will serve directly a district with a total population in excess of 143,000.

Franchises: The Company's franchises expire after the maturity of these Bonds. It has the exclusive right to distribute and sell, without competition, electric power, gas and light in the City of Recklinghausen and to fix rates that insure successful operation.

Security: These Bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, be the direct obligation of the Municipal Gas & Electric Corporation of Recklinghausen and will be secured by a direct (closed) first mortgage on all the Company's presently owned properties and further by a pledge with the German Trustee of the shares of stock owned by the Company of the Elektrizitätswerke Westfalen and the Aktiengesellschaft der Wasserwerke für das Nördliche Kohlenrevier. The Trust Agreement under which the Bonds are to be issued will provide that the Bonds shall be further secured by a first direct mortgage on the new equipment, betterments and extensions to the Company's properties to be acquired and made with the proceeds of this loan.

Purpose and Valuation: The proceeds of these Bonds will be used exclusively for additions to the Company's properties and for the extension of the Company's system into adjacent communities. After giving effect to this financing the reproduction value of the presently owned properties, after depreciation on plants and equipment, as reported by independent American appraisers on October 1, 1927, plus the additions to be made, will be approximately $2,957,000. Furthermore, the shares pledged with the Trustee which are valued at $318,000, give a total value of property and securities of $3,275,000, or equivalent to more than $2,183 per $1,000 Bond.

Earnings: The Company took over the business from the City of Recklinghausen on April 1, 1926; its net earnings after operating expenses, maintenance and taxes, but before depreciation, amounted to $98,709 for the first nine months of operations in 1926. For the year 1927 the net earnings were $304,000, or over 2.89 times the annual interest requirements on this loan.

The Company will covenant in the Trust Agreement that so long as any of these Bonds are outstanding it will not permit the establishment of any rates and charges for electric power, gas and light furnished by it which will not produce for the Company annual net earnings applicable to the payment of interest and sinking fund upon these bonds subsequent to the application of the proceeds of this loan, of at least equal to 2½ times such charges.

Sinking Fund: A Cumulative Sinking Fund beginning June 1, 1928 is calculated to be sufficient to redeem the entire issue by maturity through semi-annual drawings at par and accrued interest.

Management: The Board of Directors of the Company is composed of important officials of the City of Recklinghausen. The actual operation of the business is in the hands of men of proved technical and administrative ability.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and accepted by us, subject to prior sale and subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Hornblower, Miller & Garrison, New York City, and Dr. Wilhelm Beutner, Berlin. It is expected that interim receipts of the American Trustee will be ready for delivery on or about April 10, 1928. All conversions from German to United States Currency have been made at the rate of 4.20 Gold Marks to the Dollar.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

GRAIN TRADERS BULLISH ABOUT WHEAT PROSPECT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain traders are bulling wheat on prospects of a short crop in the soft winter wheat sections of the middle west, with prospects of large abandonment of acreage.

Corn is being bought because of the decreased country movement and expectations of a large export demand. That demand, however, thus far is below bullish expectations. All grain futures sold at the highest price level of the season last week. That called out profit taking and a sharp recession in prices, with the close on wheat ⅛c lower to ⅜c higher. Other grains showed losses, corn being off ⅝@1c; oats, 1@1⅜c, and rye, ¾@1c from the finish of the previous week.

The volume of trading in wheat increased more than 52,000,000 bu last week, when sales were 164,630,000 bu of futures, against 252,087,000 bu last year. Corn futures sales of 172,733,000 bu compared with 183,544,000 bu the previous week, and 123,169,000 bu last year.

Weather Is Big Factor.

Crop and weather conditions are to be the leading factors in wheat for the next four months. Unusual widespread abandonment of wheat in the middle west as the result of winter killing is reported. In Indiana, out of 80 tests only seven showed the plant to be alive, all being hard winters. These are the main bullish factors, offsetting fairly good prospects for the southwest, although expereince has been that March prospects for Kansas and Nebraska do not always materialize at harvest.

Week's Prices for Wheat.

March wheat closed Saturday at $1.39⅝; May, $1.39⅛@1.39⅝; July, $1.36⅛@1.36¼, and September, $1.33⅞. Prices for the week follow:

Corn Bulges Meet Selling.

With distant futures of corn well above $1 a good part of last week, there was extensive covering by those who had fought the advance, also profit taking by interests who believed in corn, some of whom reinstated their lines on the subsequent decline. Speculative interest, which has been a dominating factor in corn, has largely switched to wheat and buying of corn against sales of wheat was a feature.

Export buying of corn is the main bull card, although the actual business reported so far has been limited. Seaboard clearances in February exceeded 4,000,000 bu, compared with 1,839,000 bu last year. For the eight months to Feb. 29 they aggregated 9,453,000 bu, against 11,610,000 bu last year.

Primary receipts have dropped 50 per cent in the last two weeks, yet last week's deliveries were largest for the period in five years.

The whole corn situation is healthy and trade leaders believe in buying futures on breaks below $1.

Realizing in Oats.

With oats up to the highest prices of the season and reports of seeding of the new crop progressing under favorable conditions, combined with the break in corn, profit taking became a factor and futures dropped around 2⅛c from the high point, reaching the lowest on Saturday. Cash premiums are holding well, with a good domestic and export demand.

Holders Unload Rye.

Active general buying of rye carried prices to the season's new level, bullish news from Germany, where supplies are unusually small, being the factor. May reached $1.24, with the close on a break on Saturday, $1.19⅛, with July, $1.12⅝, and September, $1.05⅛.

LARD RECEIPTS HEAVY

More lard is being received than shipped at Chicago as this market is the dumping ground for many local as well as western packers. Exports are large and in excess of last year.

Eastern holders have an immense line bought and hedged by sales of corn. The meat trade is slow and packers are said to have loaded up their branch houses. Supplies of hogs are large, eleven markets having received 9,455,000 so far this year, about 2,000,000 more than last year.

Lard closed at losses of 2½@15c, short ribs 15@20c, and bellies 27½@35c under the previous week. Week's prices follow:

BUSINESS BETTER, CENTRAL TRUST REVIEW ASSERTS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Favorable factors continue to predominate in a future view of trade and industry, according to the monthly digest of the Central Trust Company of Illinois.

"The wheels of commerce have been running much more smoothly than their custom and there is more than a possibility that we may get a wrong impression of business operations," the bank says. "The ease of money, the plentiful supply of raw materials and labor, the lack of burdensome inventories of consumers' goods, the rapid movement of merchandise by rail and water, and the general lack of congestion in business operations seem to have led some to believe that the total volume of business has been running below normal.

Calls Trade About Normal.

"Quite the reverse is true. Business volume is running high, factory output is only a few points below its high mark, merchandise sales into consumption are little below the record in volume, and business operations, taken as a unit, are not more than 5 per cent below the highest record for the first two months of any year.

"It has taken some time for the automobile industry to get into full production on new models, the coal mining situation is bad and likely to remain so for some time, there is a degree of unemployment, largely traceable to the readjustment which is taking place between raw materials prices, merchandise prices and wages; there is an over supply of some building materials and of rubber, and these few unfavorable factors are holding back what otherwise could develop into a period of inflation."

Less Copper Is Used.

Consumption of copper in the United States last year declined, while its use in Europe increased, according to the annual report of President Gordon R. Campbell of the Calumet and Arizona Mining company. For the second consecutive year earnings fell below dividend requirements.

Net income for 1927 was $3,725,596, equivalent to $5.79 a share on the 642,757 shares of $10 par capital stock. After paying dividends of $6 and making an adjustment of $190,556 for depreciation, surplus was reduced by $321,482 to $39,353,715. Net income for 1926 was $3,595,951, or $5.59 a share.

Earnings of the New Cornelia Copper company also fell below dividend requirements. Net income was $3,138,771, equivalent to $1.74 a share on 1,800,000 shares of $5 par value. After paying dividends of $2 and making a depreciation adjustment of $9,523, surplus was reduced by $451,705 to $28,009,651. Net income for 1926 was $3,714,547, or $2.06 a share.

The Electric Power and Light corporation reports net income for 1927 at $7,728,653, equivalent after preferred dividends to $2.09 a share on 1,776,206 shares of no par common stock. Net income for 1926 was $6,275,690, or $1.45 a share on 1,774,574 shares of common stock.

Mr. C. W. Kellogg, President of the Company has summarized as follows, his letter describing this stock:

Organization: Engineers Public Service Company was organized under the laws of Delaware on June 23, 1925 for the purpose, among others, of acquiring and operating public utility properties. Its holdings include over 99% of the Common Stock of Virginia Electric and Power Company, all of the Common Stock of The Key West Electric Company, over 97% of the Common Stock of Eastern Texas Electric Company, over 94% of the Common Stock of El Paso Electric Company, over 99% of the Common Stock of Savannah Electric and Power Company, over 97% of the Common Stock of Baton Rouge Electric Company and over 96% of the Common Stock of Ponce Electric Company.

Business: The present subsidiaries of Engineers Public Service Company serve the public in a large portion of Tidewater Virginia and northeastern North Carolina including Richmond, Norfolk and Portsmouth; in the important manufacturing and shipping port of Savannah; in the railroad terminus of Key West; in the port of Ponce, P. R.; in Baton Rouge, Louisiana and vicinity; in the rapidly developing southeastern section of Texas in and about Beaumont and Port Arthur; and in and about El Paso, Texas; also in more than 130 other communities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Missouri, Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming. The properties controlled furnish electric light and power, transportation, ice and refrigeration, gas, steam heat and/or water service to a population in excess of 1,300,000.

Purpose: The proceeds of the sale of the above 320,000 shares of $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock, will be applied with other funds toward the retirement on July 2, 1928 (contingent upon favorable action by stockholders on necessary charter amendments) of the entire outstanding 311,662 shares of $7 Dividend Preferred Stock at $110 per share and accrued dividends. The retirement of the $7 Dividend Preferred Stock and the issuance of these Shares of $5 Dividend Preferred Stock will effect a reduction in annual preferred dividend requirements of $581,634.

Consolidated Capitalization: The consolidated capitalization of Engineers Public Service Company and its subsidiaries, as of December 31, 1927, adjusted to reflect the refinancing, follows:

	Authorized	Outstanding in hands of Public
Subsidiaries:
Bonds and Coupon Notes		$67,093,400
Preferred Stocks		$25,053,338
Common Stocks		10,950 shs.
Engineers Public Service Company:
Funded Debt	None	None
Preferred Stock, including $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock (this issue)	400,000 shs.	320,000 shs.†
Common Stock (without par value)	3,000,000 shs.	897,240 shs.*

†When provision has been made to redeem all the $7 Dividend Preferred Stock, authorized but unissued preferred shares may be issued as $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock or as Preferred Stock of any other permitted Series.

*In addition there are outstanding warrants for the purchase of 200,000 shares of Common Stock on or before July 1, 1930 at $27.50 per share, and thereafter on or before January 2, 1933 at $30 per share.

In the above statement and elsewhere herein a few minor subsidiary companies are omitted; these in some cases are being disposed of, and in no case is the balance of earnings available for this Company materially affected thereby.

Earnings: The following is a consolidated income statement of Engineers Public Service Company and its subsidiaries for the twelve months ended December 31, 1927 compared with 1926:

	1927	1926
Gross Earnings	$29,486,131	$26,627,687
Total Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes (incl. Fed. Inc. Taxes)	18,107,259	16,515,367
Net Earnings	$11,378,872	$10,112,320
Deductions for Interest, Lease Rentals, Subsidiary Preferred Dividends and Amounts for Reserves and Dividends applicable to Minority Holdings	5,170,893	4,793,315
Balance applicable to Reserves and to Engineers Public Service Company	$ 6,207,979	$ 5,319,005
Dividend Requirements on 320,000 shares $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock of Engineers Public Service Company	1,600,000

The above balance applicable to Reserves and to Engineers Public Service Company for the twelve months ended December 31, 1927 was in excess of 3.85 times the total annual dividend requirements on the $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock of the Company. The balance after dividend requirements on this Preferred Stock is about 15.62% of the Annual Gross Earnings.

Maintenance and Depreciation: The policy of Engineers Public Service Company is to maintain its properties in good operating condition and in addition to make adequate appropriations to reserves for retirements. On December 31, 1927 combined reserves and surplus were over 71% of the annual gross earnings.

Equity: The preferred stock will be followed by common stock having an aggregate present market value in excess of $35,000,000.

Management: The operating subsidiary companies of Engineers Public Service Company, subject to the direction and control of their respective Boards of Directors, are operated under the supervision of Stone & Webster, Inc.

The Company has agreed to make application to list these shares on the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges

The foregoing is subject to the more complete statements contained in the offering circular.

The legal proceedings relating to the issuance of this Stock are being passed upon by Messrs. Rushmore, Bisbee & Stern, New York, N. Y. We offer this stock, if, as and when issued, and subject to approval of stockholders and counsel and to prior sale. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about April 16, 1928 in the form of Interim Receipts calling for shares of this Preferred Stock, if, as and when issued, which will probably not be before July 5, 1928. Interim Receipts will be convertible into Common Stock on the same basis as shares of Preferred Stock. The Company has contracted to pay, in lieu of dividends on the Preferred Stock, interest on the offering price at the rate of 5% per annum until dividends start to accrue on the $5 Dividend Convertible Preferred Stock or until the date of surrender of Interim Receipts for conversion into Common Stock or until the date fixed for refund.

We are at the present time successfully operating throughout 45 countries of the world, therefore claim to be the largest, wealthiest company of its kind in the world today. We shall be able to place the successful applicants in real executive positions in as short a time as possible. That is why the dual announcement of another tremendous McCormack Campaign and a few openings for real salesmen [the kind that know how to sell] means so much to you.

These exceptionally good paying positions will be filled only with men who are looking for a real job with a future. Do not apply unless you are a salesman and can come well recommended.

SALESMEN.

Mr. C. was a crack specialty salesman—a real go-getter—but his biggest month's earnings were less than $600. He came with us on Feb. 14th, and to date has collected $3,815 in commissions.

WHAT HE DID— YOU CAN DO.

Here are some of the reasons: [1] we have a 41 year record of success behind us.

[2] The development of our properties in Chicago has created a reputation second to none for us in this district.

[3] We know how to train men and some of those who started with us 25 years ago are still here making big money just as they have been every year of their association with us.

[4] We know just what co-operation really means. We give it—don't just merely talk it.

[5] The properties that we are selling now and those that we will sell through the future years are always the best that can be bought and back of their selection is years of experience, unlimited data on which is based investigation and tremendous resources.

The above experience is based on actual facts and the correct name and address will be furnished on request.

Stop wishing! And call for interview today after 9 a. m.

$30,000 IN COMMISSIONS Earned by One Sales Unit in January.

It is common gossip among Chicago's real estate salesmen that our salesmen are making more money than any other subdivision sales group in Chicago.

The reason for that is that we are now marketing a subdivision which we believe to be the finest investment property we have ever offered. This property is IN CHICAGO in the heart of tremendous development activity; improvements now going in on the property, and ripe for building.

I invite 3 or 4 real estate salesmen of the better type, whose experience qualifies them to judge a good piece of property when they see it, to visit the property with me. The entire trip will require but 1¼ hrs. of your time and if the merits of the property appeal to you I then guarantee to submit to you definite proof that approximately 90% of our prospects, visiting this piece, BUY! See me at once.

CO-OPERATIVE APTS.
If you want a moderately priced co-operative apt., this is the last chance to get it. We have a few apts. left in the 3 story walk-up buildings, and when these are sold there will be no more east of Broadway and south of Grace-st. There are no other apts. for sale today except in the tall bldgs. and priced accordingly. Our locations are just as good, our prices are less than half. Take the same advantage the earlier buyers have. A LOW PRICED APT. IN A HIGH PRICED LOCALITY. Walk up to your apartment and SAVE ONE-HALF IN PRICE and upkeep. Just use common sense in buying a co-operative home.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

In these days if you take a notion to go somewhere you never think about hitching up the horse to the buggy. It is either the street car, an automobile, or an airship.

And if it is an automobile you use, you wouldn't think of carrying a lantern. No, you would attach a modern, up-to-date spotlight.

When it comes to a second mortgage, people unfortunately have antiquated ideas as to "what is what" in the second mortgage business. They more or less resign themselves to the fact that a second mortgage loan will have to be costly, even ruinous, but they pay the rate, nevertheless.

BUT TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

Little by little the public is coming to find that there is an institution in the city of Chicago which is making second mortgage loans on a modern and reasonable cost basis. The Chicago Morris Plan Bank is acting as agent for a very substantial loan fund. Through the use of this fund it has already been demonstrated that second mortgage loans can be made sanely and safely and with a reasonable profit, even though the rate charged is more than 50% lower than the rate which people were charged even two years ago.

We invite owners of homes and owners of up to 3 flat bldgs. to come and see what we have to offer. You are under no obligation to file an application, but if you are in the market for a loan we are inclined to believe that you will be very grateful to know of the reasonable terms which are offered through this institution.

Our rates are 6% accruing interest, and the commission works out as follows.
$35 PER $1,000 FOR 1 YEAR
$65 PER $1,000 FOR 2 YEARS
$90 PER $1,000 FOR 3 YEARS
